TAPE RECORDER PRESENTED BY P-TA

David Tully, principal of Queen's Park School accepts a tape recorder from the Parent-Teachers' Association of the school during graduation exercises for grade six students Monday evening. Making the presentation on behalf of the P-TA is Mrs. R. Potter, retiring president of the group. In his few words of thanks, Mr. Tully remarked that the equipment found many uses in a variety of school work.

No Sign of Agreement On Nurses' Salary Issue

There is no sign of any agreement in the nurses' salary stalemate at Pentiction General hospital.

The nurses, maintaining their salary increases have been far outstripped percentage-wise by advances in wages of workers in business and industry, are going ahead with plans for a strike vote Friday afternoon to decide whether or not they will walk out in support of increased benefits as recommended by a conciliation board report last March.

Hospital board members, however, insist that although they have no quarrel with the nurses or any other staff members, the benefits sought by the nurses are beyond the hospital's financial capacity.

"We're not being belligerent about it," emphasized Board Chairman P. E. Pauls. "But our hands are tied. We made an offer which we felt was as far as we could go without risking financial disaster in our position of responsibility without authority."

"There are three main issues in the dispute: basic pay, annual increments, and term of the contract."

The nurses are holding out for a minimum salary of $244 per month, five percent annual increments for four years, and a one-year contract. The board, in consultation with Kelowna and Vernon hospital boards whose pay scale is the same as here, has offered a minimum salary of $240 per month, annual increments of $10 a month for four years and a two-year contract.

The board's offer, first made in November, has just been reiterated.

The nurses had originally asked for a basic salary of $250 per month which, they claimed, would be only an 8 1/2 per cent increase since 1954 compared to a rise of 20 per cent in other occupations.

Other points in dispute are:

1. Holiday pay. Nurses get four weeks with pay per year after one year on staff. For those who leave the hospital after one year, the board offers holiday pay of four percent of earnings as per government regulations. The nurses are asking for eight percent of earnings.
2. Cumulative sick time. The hospital board offer would limit cumulative sick leave to 60 days. The nurses are asking for a limit of 120 days. The present basis of day and a half per month or 18 days per year of service is not in dispute.
3. Sick leave. The hospital board wants it definitely stated that any complication of pregnancy shall not be considered justifiable sick time. The nurses don't want such a clause included.
4. Extra pay for university courses. The nurses are asking that every nurse who has completed a year of university training should receive $25 per month extra. The board feels that salary ranges should be based on position and responsibility rather than training explaining that nurses who take university courses do so with no loss of seniority at the hospital and with most of their tuition paid by the taxpayers through government grants.

Hospital board members admit that the difference between their offer to the nurses and the nurses' demands is not too great financially but maintain this difference could be the proverbial final straw.

Boards Of Trade Hold Executive Meeting June 26

An executive meeting of the Okanagan and Boundary Association of Boards of Trade will be held in the Prince Charles hotel next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The executive is comprised of the president and secretary of each of the 11 member boards, along with the president, vice-president, secretary and past-president of the Association and the delegates to the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

The vice-president of each board and any others wishing to attend will be welcome for the purpose of debate, although voting will be restricted to executive members only.

Ellis Creek Causes Residents Trouble

Five residents of Okanagan avenue appeared before council on Monday for help in removing a surface-water problem on this street.

E. Croucher, spokesman for the group, said a number of new homes had been built on the street and had found water "well up from below" as Ellis creek flow had increased. It would disappear when the creek went down, he said.

Ald. P. F. Erout said that 40 years ago a branch of the creek had flowed through this area, and that this might have a bearing on the problem.

Council agreed to ask Supt. E. R. Gayfer for a report on the situation and how to correct it.

Doctors Protest Strike Threat

Pentiction doctors, in a telegram sent jointly to Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Hon. Eric Martin, minister of health and welfare, have protested the threatened strike of nurses at Pentiction general hospital as "an intolerable situation."

The night letter, sent yesterday, charges the government with "full responsibility if disruption of proper hospital care occurs."

The telegram reads: "Without in any sense entering into merits or demerits of contractual relationships between hospital board and its registered nurses the doctors of Pentiction hospital medical staff protest in strongest possible terms development and extension of intolerable situation where strike of nurses as presently threatened would imperil proper care of sick patients in this area."

"Recognizing your government controls contractual labor relations in British Columbia hospitals through budgetary limitations, this medical staff holds no criticism of local hospital board or nurses concerned but must charge you with full responsibility if disruption of proper hospital patient care occurs with resultant unnecessary suffering and or death to patients under care of the respective members of this medical staff."

"Contents of this telegram will be fully publicized as our only medium of informing public of our considered and unanimous opinion in the face of existing threat to welfare of the ill in this district."

Margaret Lott Wins $250 Summerland Legion Scholarship

SUMMERLAND — The $250 scholarship established by the Summerland Branch of the Canadian Legion has been awarded to Margaret Lott, a member of the 1957 graduating class of Summerland junior-senior high school.

Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lott and at the recent graduation ceremonies won the Women's Institute Rose Bowl for proficiency in home economics.

The Legion award was made by the president, W. C. McCutcheon at a special assembly Friday afternoon. John Cuthbert was the first student given the scholarship which was originated last year.

Armed Forces Vote Confirms Election Of Frank Christian

It's official now.

The election of Frank Christian, Social Credit candidate, as Member of Parliament for this constituency has been confirmed with the official announcement released Tuesday by returning officer Don McLeod of Kelowna.

In fact, as a result of the official count, held Monday, which includes the votes of the armed services, Mr. Christian has increased his plurality. The preliminary totals on election day had given him a margin of 108 votes over his nearest rival, the CCF candidate, O. L. Jones. Now, officially, the difference is 125 votes.

Though Mr. Jones was not available for comment, as he had left for Ottawa, there seems little likelihood he would ask for a recount.

Thieves Take Cash, 120,000 Cigarettes

Two break-ins occurred in Pentiction within the past two days with a small quantity of money being stolen in one instance and a large quantity of cigarettes in the other.

On Monday night the Lake Shore Bottling Co., 131 Ellis street, was broken into and $27 in cash was taken from an office safe.

Last night the Kelly Douglas warehouse, 329 Rigby street, was robbed of 12 cases of cigarettes, each case containing 10,000 "smokes."

Entry was gained through a skylight on the roof. Police, investigating both robberies, say there is not necessarily a connection between the two.

Both were discovered when the establishments were opened in the morning following the break-

COUNCIL ASKS REMOVAL OF ELECTION POSTERS

Removal of election posters from city poles will be requested of all four federal election campaign managers, Pentiction city council agreed Monday night.

Note was made that not only had the bills been posted, which is illegal, but that they are now being left up to become unsightly. Tacks that are used to fasten them are also a hazard to linemen, as they prevent pole-climber spikes from digging in, often with serious consequences to the workmen.

City Treasurer H. W. Cooper said that in Kamloops the Conservatives had offered five cents per Conservative poster collected by a child under the age of 15.

"It was an easy and economical way of getting rid of them, they found," the treasurer told council.

While officially council could not recommend this action to the four parties in Okanagan-Boundary, they agreed it might be a good thing if the plan were followed here.

Summerland Wage Dispute To Conciliation

SUMMERLAND — A. D. C. Washington of Pentiction will represent the Corporation of Summerland at hearings of a conciliation board into a dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the municipality.

The dispute, involving wages and one which has come up annually in recent years, will be heard by the board Monday morning, June 24, in the municipal hall, West Summerland.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson will present the municipality's case.

The chairman will be selected by the Labor Relations Board and the IBEW will send its representative.

Push Car Off Cliff

AGASSIZ, (BUP) — Police in the lower mainland are hunting car thieves who pushed a car over a cliff on Agassiz mountain.

The car belonged to James Parker of Vancouver. It was a total wreck.

Police say there was no one in it at the time and it was "pure vandalism."

First Speech As P.M. On Monday

OTTAWA—(BUP)—John Diefenbaker will make his first major policy speech as Canada's new prime minister in London, during his attendance at the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference opening next week, it was learned today.

Diefenbaker, busy with preparations for the London conference and with the selection of a cabinet to take office on Friday, did not intend to make a sweeping policy speech covering all facets of his new administration, an aide said.

Rather, he will develop the policy in a number of speeches on his return to Canada. The London speech probably will deal with Commonwealth ties and Commonwealth trade.

Meanwhile the Conservative party leader, who will have the first eight or nine of his ministers sworn into office on Friday, is tackling his most ticklish task since the June 10 general election, with a swarm of cabinet aspirants around his office.

Maj. Gen. George Pearkes, Tory defense critic before his re-election in Esquimalt-Saanich riding of British Columbia, has been offered an cabinet post of his choosing, it was learned. This was in recognition of Pearkes' long-standing loyalty to Diefenbaker.

However there are delicate problems concerning cabinet representation for Ontario, British Columbia, and Quebec.

The concentration of too much cabinet material in Toronto poses the problem for Ontario, while British Columbia has come up with an almost impossible situation.

The west coast province rates only one cabinet minister and Diefenbaker has three ministers from that province. In recent years British Columbia was accorded two ministers as the result of a cabinet deal when the Liberal ministers couldn't decide between the entry of James Sinclair and Ralph Campney, and compromised by admitting both.

The Conservative leader now has three ministers on his doorstep—E. Davis Fulton, Howard Green, and Maj. Gen. George Pearkes. Rejection of any one of these men is impossible.

Quebec poses still another problem. Diefenbaker is bound by a pledge to give the French-speaking province the same number of cabinet posts as the Liberals accorded it. That means the appointment of five ministers. Of the eight eligible men, not more than three are regarded as sufficiently experienced to be classed as possible cabinet material.

The new prime minister said he will announce his ministry on Friday. But it is expected the list will be incomplete and that a number of minor portfolios will be left vacant to be filled on his return from London.

No Extra Appropriation For Arena Roof Repairs

The roof of the Pentiction Memorial Arena needs repairs but city council and parks board haven't decided how the cost is to fit into the parks board budget.

A special meeting of city council and parks board is to be held Monday to discuss this point as well as the future of the parks board itself under the new B.C.

Municipal act.

Under the new Act, elective parks boards will no longer exist. They may, or may not be replaced by appointed groups, or their functions can be fulfilled by council itself, if so desired.

Pentiction council Monday night agreed that it will endeavor to make any necessary transition as smooth as possible. Discussion indicated the status quo may remain until the end of the present year, and then a smooth transition from one plan to the other will be effected.

But council members were adamant that the 1957 parks budget, representing 9 1/2 per cent of city expenditures, shall be adhered to and that all repairs to the roof must come out of this lump sum in some manner. Cost of repairs to the roof, estimated at from $2,500 to as high as $9,000, was not allowed for in the arena section of the parks estimates.

As chairman of the finance and administration committee of council, Ald. P. F. Erout said he would like to have this problem clarified as soon as possible. City Treasurer H. W. Cooper agreed that until it has been settled where the money for repairs is to come from, it is difficult to finalize all budgetary details.

"It seems to me that even if something goes wrong, adjustments should have to be made within the parks budget, so that you still would not spend more than nine and a half per cent of the total civic budget for parks, including the arena," said Ald. J. G. Harris. "The money set aside for it should be so administered that it does not come to more than the amount set up as the

Meeting Tonight On School For Retarded

A meeting to discuss plans for establishment of a school for retarded children in Pentiction will be held tonight in the United Church hall at 8 p.m.

This will be a general meeting of the Pentiction and District Society for Mentally Handicapped, an organization founded this spring with its chief aim to set up a school serving Pentiction and district.

At tonight's meeting a decision will be made as to choice of teacher for the school which will be set up in September. As well, there will be discussion on location of the school.

The meeting will begin with singing up of hymns for the Society. Members of the public are invited to attend.

Salary Schedules Asked And Offered

Central issue in dispute in the Pentiction hospital nurses' salary agreement deadlock is the salary schedule to be paid for 1957.

The hospital board, aiming for a year of peace from salary negotiations, is asking for a two-year contract but the nurses want the agreement on a one-year basis.

The salary schedule asked by the nurses after being recommended in a conciliation board report, and the one offered by the hospital board are set out for comparison below. Main difference is that the nurses ask a basic salary of $244 per month with annual increments of five percent for four years and the board is offering a minimum of $240 per month with annual increments of $10 per month for four years.

Berry Protection Welcome, But How About Soft Fruit?

Announcement of the setting of certain minimum values at which fresh strawberries will be allowed entry into Canada was a welcome farewell gesture from the dying Liberal government.

More to the point as far as South Okanagan growers are concerned, would have been an announcement of a protective tariff on apricots and other soft fruit and produce entering Canada each year at distress prices.

Certainly the strawberry tariff is a step in the right direction. Following a number of disaster years for B.C. berry growers as far as yields were concerned, 1957 promised to go down in history as a catastrophe because berries from California's extremely large crop and the State of Washington's much-larger-than-normal crop were being offered and sold into British Columbia markets at approximately half the price that has applied in recent years. B.C. growers, with about 40-50 percent of a normal crop, were faced with disposing of this crop at extremely low prices.

Berry growers on the Mainland and Vancouver Island are already expressing great relief at the timely and effective measure of assistance.

The regulation is, undoubtedly, the outcome of discussions carried on in Ottawa June 3, 4 and 5 by representatives of the Canadian Horticultural Council and the department of national revenue. At this conference British Columbia growers were represented by L. R. Stephens.

It is to be hoped that an announcement on soft fruit protection will be forthcoming shortly also. Whether it comes from an administration just retiring from office or one just taking over doesn't make much difference.

Paradox In Chains

OTTAWA REPORT

LIBERALS NO LONGER NATION-WIDE PARTY

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
(Special to The Herald)

OTTAWA — The feared but unexpected tragedy has overtaken the Liberal Party — and Canada.

This is the emergence of St. Laurent's supporters as a political caucus which is dominated by a huge French-Canadian majority. They have ceased to constitute a party of nation-wide scope.

Last week's voting yielded the Liberals 106 seats. Of these, approximately three-quarters are in the province of Quebec, or in the areas populated by its ethnic over-spillings.

Thus in the caucus of the parliamentary Liberal party, the French-Canadian voice now has a majority of three to one over the voices of other parts of Canada and of other ethnic groups.

Under the caucus system used by the Liberal party, differences may only be voiced in private, behind the closed doors of the caucus room. Once the party line has been determined by majority opinion in private caucus, the whole party shows a united front in public on the floor of the House of Commons.

Thus the French-Canadian majority voice will now dominate the Liberal caucus, and will then be geared to the size and significance of a united and complete Liberal party in parliament.

CANADA FOR THE FRENCH
During the recent election campaign, an old whisper was heard and more insistently than ever before. The Liberal party is the political arm of the French-Canadian race, said this whisper; it is therefore obliged to give first and over-riding consideration to the wishes of Quebec, regardless of the wishes or just claims of the rest of Canada.

The results of that election have proved the truth of this alleged whisper, more insistently in the west than anywhere else. In its campaign literature, the Liberal party wrongly insisted that it and only it could be a truly national party. The Liberal leader himself claimed that he had strengthened and widened our national unity. But today he stands at the head of a predominantly sectional group, with no possible claim to a united nationwide support. Three quarters of its strength represents French Canada, and 80 per cent of our provinces yield it only 20 per cent of its strength.

In a country with at least 12 significant ethnic groups, it is a tragedy that any one such group should remain so unassimilated that it constitutes a solid bloc, not only in the national life, but even in the national government.

LIBERALS MUST REBUILD
This has now happened to the Liberal party to an extent foreseen, but never matched before except during the 1917 conscription crisis. The result must be one of only two alternatives.

Either the Quebec bloc will dissolve itself, or the Liberal party will be deserted by its non-French support and the rump will degenerate into a surly isolationist element of national disunity.

It is a foregone conclusion that the leaders of Quebec, sufficiently astute to sense the present danger, will arrange that the former of these two alternatives will come to pass. At the next election, which must come within a year, at least twenty Quebec ridings will disavow their present Liberal M.P., and support some other party.

This might be a group of Quebec independent candidates under some appropriate label, and they could conceivably hold the bal-

CAPITAL REPORT

B.C. Only Province With 4 Party MP's

By JAMES K. NEBITT

VICTORIA — Once again British Columbia was the only province in Canada to send representatives of all four parties: Conservatives, Liberal, CCF and Social Credit to the House of Commons.

British Columbia is much more bold than any other province when it comes to politics; it is a great experimenter in politics. It'll try a little bit of everything.

We in this province elected seven Conservatives, seven CCF's, six SC's and two Liberals. Despite the nice Conservative gain, this column feels that B.C. is still a CCF-S.C. province, otherwise these two parties would have lost something.

The Liberals and Conservatives merely switched positions the ins and outs, so to speak.

The CCF held their own, and Social Credit gained two seats — a very nice gain indeed, when one considers that this time four years ago Social Credit held not one B.C. seat in the Commons.

It is significant that, despite the tremendous Conservative upsurge across the country, the Conservatives made absolutely no inroads into CCF and S.C. territory in B.C.

All the Conservative gains were at the expense of the Liberals.

The two old-line parties combined, indeed, lost seats, compared to 1953.

That year the two parties, between them, elected 11 members; this year the Liberal-Conservative total fell to nine. Social Credit was the victor.

It is curious that the most savage onslaught against the Liberals in B.C. was the big centres — the Vancouver ridings of Centre, South and Burrard, and in Victoria city. People in outlying sections seemed quite content with their S.C. and CCF representatives, and with two Liberals.

But don't ask this column to explain how come people vote this and that way.

It's curious also that people will vote provincially one way and in six months go out and vote the opposite way federally.

Vancouver city, for instance, last September, in the provincial general election, would have nothing to do with the Conservatives. Vancouver city, with the exception of CCF East, went solidly Social Credit.

Yet, in the federal election, nine months later, the people who voted S.C. provincially, went for the Conservatives federally. Does this mean that, as some people insist, C.C.'ers and Conservatives are one and the same?

The public, when its gets into the polling booths, seems to enjoy confounding the experts and the politicians.

People seem to vote with an air of "I'll show 'em who's boss around here."

Anyway, it's going to be an exciting year, for there's almost certain to be another federal general election within 12 months, in an effort to make order out of Houseflies multiply at an alarming rate. One fly may lay as many as five hundred eggs in less than a month. Since every fly is a carrier of disease germs it is necessary to exterminate them early in the summer with fly sprays. All windows and doors should be properly screened.

Physical fitness involves more than building large muscles — it means ensuring regular and sufficient sleep and rest, a balanced, adequate diet and daily physical activity.

the chaos created by a free people when they voted this year. In its own way and in its own time the people will create such order. They always do.

Nurses Impasse Unfortunate

The notion of a strike amid nurses is disquieting. Grounds there may very well be for the nurses' reaction to their present situation. And there may also be argument by which the board of trustees can back up their position. But the public still clings to the idea of a nurse as an agent of mercy and attendant upon the ailing above everything else, rather than as a unionist. Hence such an outcome as a strike, regardless of its bases, is a most unhappy one in the public's eye.

The nurses obviously feel that a recent conciliation board vindicated their position and that, if costs are the hazard to the board, such costs should and could be slashed in many other ways than in curbing of the nurses' award. The nurses are also submitting that the gap between what they get, and what is agreed upon as the payment to other employees of less training, is unrealistic. Angels of mercy or not, as they sum it up, they don't want to be put upon. They have a point.

But, in all this, the board members also are not without an argument. It is steadily becoming clearer that they have responsibility without authority, are hamstrung on revenues and by certain B.C. government controls. Yet theirs is the duty of somehow dealing with a continuously mounting overdraft. They too have decided to take a stand.

In an impasse like this, the usual trend is for compromise to become more and more difficult. It is therefore high time for a vigorous and persuasive outside intermediary, preferably stemming from the provincial government itself, to get on the scene. Labor procedures and precedents notwithstanding, such a step is what the public would not only welcome, but call mandatory. Nursing is too important a function to be handled about this way.

Tourist Promotion Needed

For the sixth successive year, Canadians have spent more abroad and in the United States than foreign visitors left in Canada.

The deficit in Canada's travel account for 1956 reached an all-time high of $162,000,000, a 32 per cent increase over 1955's deficit of $121,000,000.

Visitors to Canada in 1956 spent an estimated $335,000,000, up 2.1 per cent from the previous year. But at the same time, Canadians spent $497,000,000 in other countries, an increase of 10.7 per cent over 1955.

U.S. residents visiting Canada spent $308,000,000 in 1956, compared with $303,000,000 in 1955; while Canadians travelling to the U.S. in 1956 spent $391,000,000 an increase of $28,000,000 over the previous year.

Much has been done in the past to encourage Canadians to vacation in their own country. But these startling statistics show that there is still much promotion work to be done, if Canada is to get its fair share of the tourist dollar. And the gulf is widening.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Reports Shouldn't Spur Competition

Editor, Penticton Herald,
Sir: I was amazed to read of your survey on school report cards and find so many parents wished to revert to percentages on their children's report cards.

Quite honestly I cannot see that either letters, symbols or percentages are fair to any child in every way. Is it not possible for the teacher to write a short sentence which can tell so much more? Perhaps one child is a good steady, class worker but panics in a test and gets poor marks. In a case like this I do not believe the teacher would find it so much more work as in each case he or she has to consider the individual child even to put a G or an N or 60 per cent on a report card.

Most conscientious teachers would be only too happy to be able to give credit where credit is due and solve some of the present difficulties.

On the subject of competition even without the use of percentages there is plenty of competition in the schools today, answering questions, tests of all kinds and in sports and games. Isn't it better for John to try to help Bill if he does not do well than for him to glory in the fact that he beat him?

True there is competition in the world today but how about team spirit and loyalty? When the young man or woman starts work in a shop, a factory, a business or any other place, he has to learn to get along with people, do his fair share and give a helping hand when needed rather than constantly working out ways of getting one better than the other guy.

As one of the parents you quote, "children love competition" and you can be sure they will always find ways to compete which are not so harmful to their growing personalities.

Yours sincerely,
J. C. Haines,
Kaleden.

SUPPORTS PRESENT REPORT CARD MARKING SYSTEM

Editor, Penticton Herald, Sir: The present system of using symbols and letters on the report cards, is the best method so far attempted in endeavoring to show the progress of the student.

This business of percentages sounds wonderful, but outside of the subjects of mathematics it is impossible to apply. In order to try and get an accurate percentage rating of a student you would have to have a battery of experts doing nothing but evaluating the students' knowledge and even then, it is impossible to calculate the exact knowledge or standing of a student.

In anyone doubts the foregoing, may I suggest that they try it on their own youngster, and in so doing, remember that percentages denote accuracy and that you must be absolutely sure that if you mark your youngsters 60 percent then it must be 60 percent and not 58 percent or 62 percent.

If we had a bunch of mechanical robots as students it might be possible to use percentages, but we are dealing with human beings and since no teacher or examiner is infallible, I think you tend that any use of percentages would be inaccurate.

The use of symbols or letters allows for a reasonable leeway in the judgment of the teacher or examiner and is therefore the

The present system in no way deprives the student of any competitive experience. The symbols or letters he receives on his report card, when compared to the others in his class, indicates where he stands. In this so-called race for knowledge.

Incidentally, I have four children going to school and I have a pretty good idea as to how they are doing. Much better than if I saw percentages as they did in the days of old.

Rose Tag Day to be Held on Saturday by I.O.D.E. Chapter

MRS. NEIL McELROY

On Saturday the members of the Diamond Jubilee Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, will hold their annual Queen Alexandra Rose Tag Day under the convenship of Mrs. Neil McElroy with the assistance of Mrs. M. M. Colquhoun and Mrs. J. B. Feeney.

Proceeds from the all-day appeal will be applied to the order's funds designated for welfare work with children, locally, nationally and internationally, regardless of race, creed or color. The Rose Tag Day originated with the late Queen Alexandra, wife of the British ruler, King Edward VII. Queen Alexandra, who was noted as being one of the great beauties of Europe, was also proclaimed for her beauty of character. Her life was devoted to alleviating the distress of the sick, crippled and underprivileged children, and it was under her sponsorship that many hospitals and homes for these children were founded.

She conceived the idea that the children in these institutions should make paper roses to be sold on the anniversary of her birthday and the proceeds be applied to the support of the homes and hospitals.

Later when the National Chapter, IODE, decided to hold a tag day to raise funds for the order's extensive program of child welfare assistance, the symbol of the rose was adopted and the name, Alexandra Rose Tag Day, chosen. Giving their support to this established plan, the local IODE members will tag throughout the city from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

AROUND TOWN

English Traveller Is Visiting Here

Mrs. Mark James of Torquay, Devonshire, England, is a guest in this city with her cousin, Mrs. William Heberton, and Mr. Heberton. She travelled from the British Isles aboard the Queen Elizabeth and spent a month in Washington, D.C., with her daughter prior to coming to Penticton to visit. Mrs. James, who has been entertained extensively during her two-week stay here, plans to go to Montreal for a brief visit before embarking for home early in July.

Among visitors in Penticton this week are former residents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Morley of Roswell.

Thirty-two members of the Penticton Women's Institute were guests at the June meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute held Friday afternoon at the Powell Beach residence of Mrs. L. W. Rumball.

Currently visiting in Penticton with Captain and Mrs. John Bowen Colthurst is the latter's aunt, Miss Marie Muyskens of Detroit, Michigan. Miss Muyskens is en route home after spending the winter and spring months in Santa Ana, California.

Mrs. Victor Meier left on Saturday for Montreal from where she will travel to Europe on the German Air Line Lufthansa to visit until August in Germany.

Among those from the Penticton Soroptimist International going to Okanagan, Washington, last week for the installation of the Okanagan club's new term officers were: Miss Jean Bennet, president-elect; Mrs. Edna Brown, Mrs. Margaret Michie and Mrs. R. A. Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rathbun left on Friday for a three-week motor trip holiday. They plan to visit centres in the States and spend sometime with Mrs. Rathbun's parents at Salt Spring Island.

Church Women Are Holding Leaders' Training School

NARAMATA—United Church women from all parts of British Columbia are converging at the Naramata Christian Leadership Training School today to attend the annual leaders' school being jointly held this year by the Women's Missionary Society and the Women's Association.

There will be discussions and work shops covering all phases of women's work in the church from the "Baby Bands" to adult organizations. The school will be in session until Saturday. Those in charge have arranged a very worthwhile program.

It is anticipated that many women from adjoining centres who are interested in the leaders' training session will fill cars and attend daily meetings if they are unable to participate in the full course.

Dust allowed to gather in drapes will fade or discolor them. Between cleanings, remove dust with the upholstery attachment of your vacuum cleaner.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON LLOYD AUCH
Sunderwood Portrait Studio.

Shirley Melwicks And V.L. Auch Are United in Marriage

Roses, peonies and carnations were beautifully arranged in the Concordia Lutheran Church to form a lovely setting for the ceremony uniting in marriage Shirley Melwicks and Vernon Lloyd Auch, both of Penticton.

Rev. L. A. Gahert read the wedding vows for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Melwicks of this city and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Auch of New Westminster.

Net and lace were fashioned into the bride's full-length bouffant gown worn with fitted lace jacket featuring sleeves in lily point and Peter Pan collar defined with pearl and sequin embroidery. Narrow ruffles of net enhanced the lace skirt misting tiered net and crinoline. Her cathedral veil of illusion was caught by a tiara of sequins, pearls and satin daisies. The lovely floral accent was again emphasized in the edging on the bride's veil. She carried red carnations and valley lilies in her cascading bouquet.

The charming bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Maureen Hamilton of Rutland, as maid of honor, and Miss Shirley Marshall, also of Rutland, as her bridesmaid. Their ballerina frocks were worn with stoles; maid of honor in turquoise nylon tulle, and the other attendant in softly colored yellow net. Their bouquets were fashioned of white carnations centred with pastel blooms to harmonize with their attire.

The groom was attended by his brother, Alvin Auch of New Westminster, as best man, and by Alfred Frankie of Rutland. Grooms were Edward Johnson and Kenneth Constantineau, both of Penticton. Richard Stank was wedding organist.

A reception for more than a hundred guests followed in the Knights of Pythias Hall. Assisting in receiving the guests were the bride's mother, who was attractively attired in a navy blue lace gown with white accessories, and the groom's mother in a grey suit with white accessories and yellow corsage.

A beautifully decorated three-tiered cake centred the prettily appointed table arranged with low bowls of roses and sweet peas. The toast to the bride was proposed by A. W. Crowley of Rutland, who also was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

When the young couple left for

Mrs. W. R. Palmer Speaker at June Meeting of W. I.

Agricultural convener of the Provincial Women's Institutes, Mrs. W. R. Palmer of Kelowna, was the guest speaker at the June meeting of the Penticton WI held in the Red Cross Centre with president Mrs. Guy Brock in the chair.

Mrs. Palmer's interesting address summarized highlights of the extensive program conducted in Canada and abroad by the 90,000 institute members who comprise the 141 world organizations.

She also spoke of the need for establishing a chair of dentistry at UBC, and a vocational school for nurses. She reported on the progress of the Centennial Cook Book being compiled by the WI, and of the excellent response from the members in contributing recipes.

Mrs. Gordon Ritchie of Summerland thanked the members for re-electing her to the office of district president and for her appointment as delegate to the national WI conference to be held at Ottawa in October.

Mrs. Ritchie also reminded the members of the annual international picnic of Women's Institutes which will be held at Osoyoos in the Community Centre Park on July 19. A pot-luck luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

Mrs. M. Atkinson was the winner of the WI quilt.

Following adjournment refreshments were served by Mrs.

a motor trip honeymoon to Vancouver and Seattle, the bride was smartly attired in a full-skirted pink dress with pink accessories. They will take up residence in this city.

Among the many out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. A. Curley and John Constantineau, Vancouver; Miss Gloria Auch, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dale, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, Paul Schonberger, Ray Frankie, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Klawa, William Van Roode, Mrs. L. Wedding Ceremony Will Unite Pioneer Okanagan Families

NARAMATA—Pioneer families of the Okanagan Valley will be united with the marriage on June 29 of Miss Rosemary Partridge, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Partridge of Naramata, and George Colin Edge, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edge of Okanagan Falls.

The bride-to-be is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Partridge of Naramata and the late Mr. Partridge, and Mrs. James Langridge of Penticton and the late Mr. Langridge. Her fiancé is the grandson of Okanagan Falls pioneers, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Hawthorne.

The wedding will take place in St. Peter's Anglican Church with Rev. Canon A. R. Eagles officiating.

Miss Partridge has named Miss Anne Darling of Naramata and Miss Marlene Lepage of Vancouver as her attendants.

The groom-elect will have his brother, Earl Edge, as best man. Ushers will be his cousin, Lloyd Thomas of Okanagan Falls, and the bride to be's brother, Herbert Partridge of Naramata.

Mounties Play Dead For Seattle Southpaw

VANCOUVER — (UP) — The Vancouver Mounties continued to play first cousin to all types of pitching as left-hander Charlie Rabe of the Seattle Rainiers shut them out 2-0 before 3,416 fans at Capilano stadium in a Pacific Coast League contest Tuesday night.

The Rainiers' victory was a two-man effort, with Rabe pitching a five-hitter for his seventh victory of the season against four losses, and Jim Dyck, the leading hitter in the league, accounting for both Seattle runs. The initial Seattle bid came in the second inning when Dyck led off with a double off Eddie Erault.

Ray Orteig's single promptly scored him. In the fourth inning Dyck hit a bases-empty homer over the left field wall to end the scoring.

Erault, who pitched until he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, allowed only seven hits but picked up his fifth loss of the season against two victories.

Sandy Consuegra pitched the last two innings for Vancouver, allowing one more single.

Three of Vancouver's five hits off Rabe were doubles but nobody got any further than second base during the game. Rabe spaced his hits well, not allowing any more than one in any single inning.

The same clubs play tonight at Capilano stadium. George Bamberger (7-4) will pitch for the Mounties against Marion Fricano (5-4) for Seattle.

BOAT CLUB TO BE FORMED AT OKANAGAN LAKE SUNDAY

An attempt to revive the Penticton Yacht club will be made Sunday when boat owners will meet at Woodside Boat Works.

Purpose of the meeting is to form a boat club to deal with the problems arising from the large number of boats on Okanagan Lake.

All interested boat owners are asked to be at the Okanagan Lake boat house at one o'clock Sunday afternoon.

BABE RUTH HASSLE

Irate Umpire Takes A Walk

Babe Ruth games always provide some spice, one way or another.

Down at King's Park on Monday night, for instance, Umpire Art Fisher tossed a couple out of the fixture, then walked off himself.

Art had been making a pretty hard-working try at it. Then trouble started in the sixth inning with Sports Shop leading Love's Lunch 17-14.

A Sports Shop batter was hit by the pitcher. Umpire Fisher ruled it a ball. The batter could have dodged, he contended. But the rhubarb dug in its roots. The ump tossed one side-line player out, then an irate and closely related fan. When the hassling kept on he stripped his gear and strode from the park.

With Dave McCrady stepping in for the calls behind the plate, the game ended a bit later with Sports Shop atop an 18-14 score.

Howie McNeil, who took over from Don Dennis, gave his usually reliable performance despite the apparently loose scoring, to be the winning pitcher. Gene Cormier, Ross McCrady, Paddy Hayward, and then Cormier again, did the mound duties for Lunches.

It was all a bit dusty and fussed-up, but good entertainment much of the way.

Next Babe Ruth league action will take place at Queen's Park Thursday night when Interior Contracting plays Keremeos.

Baseball Men Ask Anti-Trust Act Exemption

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A Florida congressman who once was both a baseball player and official said today that putting the sport under anti-trust regulation would cause "perhaps irreparable injury to the great American game."

Democratic Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. made the statement in testimony prepared for a house judiciary subcommittee which is studying the anti-trust status of professional sports.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick and minor league president George M. Trautman also were scheduled to testify today. They too were ready to go to bat for continued exemption of baseball from federal anti-trust laws.

Baseball's exemption dates back to a 1922 supreme court decision.

George Brent Sparks Elks To One-Run Victory Over Lions

George Brent socked a home run, his first in three years of Little League play and the Elks went on to score a 20-19 victory over Lions in a Little League slugfest played last night.

Elks were coasting along to what appeared to be a lopsided win when Lions exploded for 10 big runs to cut the Elks' margin to one run.

Elks reeled off a double play in the fifth after the Lions had executed a twin kill in the previous inning.

Besides his home run, Brent also cracked a double to lead his club at the plate. For the losers, Lance Thors turned in a stand-out effort in the field and at bat.

He made several fine catches in centre field and contributed a double in their big sixth inning. Cripps was credited with the win.

Salmonbellies Whip Pils, 10-6

VANCOUVER — (BUP) — The New Westminster Salmonbellies took a 10-6 inter-city lacrosse victory from the Vancouver Pilseners last night to grab third place in the standings and leave the Pils behind in the cellar.

New Westminster is just two points behind Victoria and Nanaimo, tied for first.

The teams were tied 2-2 after the first quarter, but the Bellies pulled ahead 4-2 by the half and steadily widened the gap.

Bill Jobb led the winners with three goals and Cliff Sepka helped out with two goals and one assist. For Vancouver, Fred Uselman potted two goals.

Horse Show Slated For Queen's Park

The Queen's Park race track oval will be the scene of the Penticton Riding Club Gymkhana and Horse Show.

This will be a decided advantage over previous years when the former rodeo grounds were used. The race track affords ample free parking completely around the grass oval where the riders will perform, which will allow a good vantage point for the entire show, besides the added comfort of sitting in your own car.

Members are enthusiastically practicing nearly every evening at the club ring at Skaha lake and even the usual Sunday afternoon rides also have time used for practicing tent pegging or pole bending.

"The horses also are getting the 'feel' of it all and seem to walk or canter more quickly and to obey commands as smartly as if they were already on show, and

TORONTO — (BUP) — Marlene Stewart Streit, of Fonthill, Ont., favorite in the Ontario ladies golf tournament at Weston golf club, yesterday breezed through the opening round of match play.

Mrs. Streit defeated Mrs. W. E. Hanna, of St. George's four and five.

The upset of the day was provided by a 14-year-old Gail Harvey of Uplands, youngest player in the tournament. She defeated former Quebec champion Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw of Lambton by one stroke. Tomorrow Gail meets Streit in the second round.

Green Bay Lands All-American Ron Kramer

GREEN BAY, WIS. — (UP) — A generous $15,000 a year contract was the main persuader for Michigan's all American end Ron Kramer who signed to play with the Green Bay Packers Tuesday.

Kramer had been wavering between the Packers and the Hamilton Tigercats of the Canadian Big Four for the past three weeks. Packer coach Lisle Blackbourn, who had spent several hours with the young athlete trying to come to terms, finally landing him in a session Monday in Detroit.

The contract is for three years.

Kramer, one of the few nine letter men in Michigan's history, was the Packer's No. 1 draft choice. Blackbourn said he'll use Kramer at right end and shift ace pass catcher Billy Howton to "slotback".

Blackbourn said with Kramer at end "we can make use of his blocking ability as well as his pass catching." The slightly-built Howton was weak in blocking, but has been one of the league's top pass catchers for several seasons.

Kramer is a good pass receiver, too. He led the Wolverines in scoring his sophomore and junior years, catching 34 passes for 527 yards and seven touchdowns.

Last season, he led Michigan receivers with 18 catches for 353 yards and two touchdowns.

RED SOX PLAY HERE NEXT WEEK

The Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League game scheduled for Penticton Friday night has been postponed until June 28, club officials announced today.

The game, between the Red Sox and Oliver OBC's, will be played under the lights as will the game against Summerland June 26. The Red Sox-Summerland game is the contest which was rained out here last Friday.

Sunday the Red Sox will travel to Vernon to play the cellar-dwelling Canadians in an Okanagan-Mainline League fixture.

Little Bobby Shantz Is Yankee's Big Man

By UNITED PRESS

Bobby Shantz, the New York Yankees' 142-pound pitching giant, owns an 8-1 record and 1.86 earned run average today that makes him baseball's No. 1 candidate for "comeback of the year" honors.

Shantz, showing the same form that made him the American League's most valuable player in 1952, turned in his seventh straight victory last night when he beat the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, to move the Yankees within 2 1/2 games of the first-place Chicago White Sox. The White Sox suffered their sixth loss in 10 games when Billy Pierce walked over the winning run in a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Orioles.

"I think I have everything I had in 1952 except the change-up on my fast ball," said Shantz after snapping the Tigers' five-game winning streak. "I've had no trouble with my arm."

Shantz slipped to only five victories in 1953 following his brilliant 24-7 1952 campaign and in the last three years scored a total of only eight wins—a figure he matched for a third of this season last night. The Yankees acquired him along with Art Ditmar in their big trade with Kansas City last winter and it may be that it will be remembered as the deal that won the pennant for the Yankees.

Bobby Richardson, the man who made Billy Martin expendable, delivered a sacrifice fly in the second inning and singled home the winning run in the fifth to help hand Billy Hoelt his fourth defeat. A crowd of 33,124 saw the Tigers score their only run on a walk and two singles. Shantz has beaten the Tigers nine straight times since 1950.

Pierce suffered his fourth loss against 10 wins when he walked Billy Gardner, Bob Nieman and Jim Busby in succession to give the Orioles their decisive run. George Zuverink shut out the White Sox for the last 2 2/3 innings to gain credit for his seventh victory for Baltimore.

The Cleveland Indians shaded the Boston Red Sox, 7-6, and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Washington Senators, 2-0, in the other A.L. games. Chico Carrasquel, Vic Wertz, Rocky Colavito and Roger Maris homered for the Indians as Bob Lemon, in his first appearance since May 24, won his fourth game.

Ralph Terry, the ex-Yankee, pitched five hit ball for 8 2/3 innings for the Athletics and Virgil Trucks struck out Art Schult with the bases filled for the final out. Homers by Lou Skizas and Vic Power produced the Kansas City runs that tagged Ted Abernathy with his seventh defeat.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers dumped Cincinnati into fifth place with a 7-0 victory over the Redlegs; the New York Giants whipped the first-place Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-6, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1.

Don Newcombe pitched a five-hitter and drove in two runs with a double and a homer as the Dodgers tagged the slumping Redlegs with their fourth straight loss and eighth in nine games. The Dodgers combed five Cincinnati pitchers for 13 hits as Newcombe flipped his third shut-out for his sixth triumph.

Ray Crone shut out his ex-teammates for six innings to win his first game for the Giants who've won six of their last seven games. Daryl Spencer's two-run sixth-inning single was the decisive blow after an error by Bill Bruton paved the way for Warren Spahn's fourth loss. Wes Westrum homered for the Giants.

Rookie Harry Anderson's grand slam and Rip Repulski's three-run homer provided the Phillies with all their runs as Jim Hearn picked up his first win with 4 1/3 innings of one-run relief pitching. Hearn struck out six of the 15 batters he faced after rookie

"FIRST WITH THE FINEST"

FOR BROOKLYN BATTLER

Boxing Savvy Pays Off

MONTREAL — (BUP) — Crafty little Lulu Perez, once a leading contender for the featherweight title, was one step closer to a shot at the lightweight title today, following his "easy" split decision over Bobby Courchesne last night at the Forum.

The Brooklyn battler, making only his second comeback fight after an eight-month layoff because of a low blood count, used a punishing body attack and plenty of boxing savvy to out-punch Courchesne, a game crew-cut puncher from Holyoke, Mass., in their 10-round lightweight scrap.

Brown Expected To Retain Title

DENVER — (UP) — Champion Joe Brown, a rugged puncher for a lightweight, is favored to catch elusive Cuban challenger Orlando Zulueta often enough tonight to retain his title in a scheduled 15-rounder at Denver coliseum.

Brown, 31, is a 2-1 favorite over the 28-year-old Havana battler, although Zulueta has never hit the canvas in 100 fights. His fancy boxing and strong left could lift the champion's slightly-worn crown. Brown has worn the crown less than a year.

Both fighters weighed 134 1/2.

Perez, unmarked, although visibly tired in the final two rounds, pointed toward a match with lightweight Laurant in Los Angeles for his next test. Manager Andy Gregory, who has handled Perez since his amateur days, said he hoped to finalize the fight, "the next day or two."

"I don't know how they could score it a split decision," Gregory said. "Lulu beat him 10-0 in New York a while back and I thought he won almost as easy tonight."

Perez almost put Courchesne away in the eighth round when he landed a wicked left to the body. Just under Courchesne's right elbow, a punch he scored with repeatedly Courchesne was staggered half way across the ring to the ropes and Perez followed it up with rights and lefts to the head, but couldn't put him down.

The classy Brooklyn lightweight was forced to give up the ring almost a year ago when his wife, Doris, a pathologist, discovered he suffered from a low blood count that sapped his strength. But with the help of liver extract pills and vitamin pills, he has brought his count up to normal. To keep in shape during his long layoff, Lulu worked as a bricklayer in Brooklyn.

"He's ready now to meet anyone in the division," said Gregory. "He's got his strength back and he should be fighting the rated fighters right now."

"But when you're writing about them pills, make sure you say they aren't none of them pep pills everybody's hollering about. They're just liver extract and vitamins . . . stuff to build up his blood count."

The 23-year-old Perez kept out of range most of the fight as Courchesne scored almost solely with his left jab. Although warned two or three times early in the fight for low blows, Perez maintained a steady stream of telling left hooks just under Courchesne's right elbow. He drew blood from Courchesne's nose in the fourth, and then opened cuts over his eyes in the sixth and seventh, and for the rest of the fight the New England battler bled freely in each round.

Courchesne had Perez in trouble in the fifth when he moved in on him and scored with combinations to the head and body. But from there on Perez wouldn't let him get close enough to do any damage.

In the six-round semi-final, Canadian amateur heavyweight champion Robert Cloux of Montreal, came off the deck to score a TKO over Ray Batey, East Elmhurst, New York. It was Cloux's pro debut and he was awkward, although a willing mauler.

STOP NUCLEAR BOMB TESTS

Dr. Linus Pauling, head of the division of chemistry and chemical engineering at California Institute of Technology, holds what he calls "an appeal by American scientists" for an international agreement to stop the testing of nuclear bombs. The paper is signed by 2,000 scientists. Dr. Pauling is a former Nobel prize-winning biochemist.

Devil Giving Billy Graham Trouble Too

NEW YORK, (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, giving a sermon on the subject of Satan, complained Tuesday night that the devil was causing him trouble, too.

Graham, who ended the fifth week of his New York crusade by drawing the 600,000th person to hear him in Madison Square Garden, said that the "devil" has attacked his crusade.

"I keep a diary and I'm writing down every way that Satan is attacking the crusade," Graham said. "I have to admit he's done a lot to hurt it."

The 38-year-old evangelist, who has faced a discernible drop in his nightly audiences since the heat wave hit the east, said that "I don't know whether Satan controls the weather, but he's done what to him must be a good job over the weekend."

"The tragedy is that a lot of supposedly good Christians co-operated with the devil by staying away with him," Graham said.

"At a time like this if Christians don't bring someone to my meetings every night to give them the good news it amounts to criminal negligence," he said.

Tonight's audience in the garden, which has a capacity of 18,500, was 15,500. Graham often has preached to capacity and over-capacity crowds in the giant sports arena since his crusade began there May 15.

PEACHLAND

The drive sponsored by the Women's Institute for the Arthritis and Rheumatism Society has ended with the collection of $67.50. The quota for this district was $50.

Bob West of Vancouver spent a recent weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. West, Trepanier, en route to Fernie, where he has been transferred by the B.C. Telephone Co.

H. C. MacNeill, local representative on the school board, District No. 23, attended the meeting held in Kelowna on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sims have returned from a holiday spent motoring to Pacific points during the last three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sehr (nee Shirley Rogers) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on June 11th, in the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Knoblauch were Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauer of Rutland, formerly of Peachland, and their two daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ziachka and son of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Billings, of Philadelphia, Penn., who had attended their brother John's wedding, in Rutland.

Mrs. Hurry, of the Channel Islands, is registered at the Totem Inn, this week.

Dr. Gordon Whyte has left to spend the weekend with his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Whyte of Vernon.

Need For Orchard Workers Increasing

Cherry picking began Monday in the Oliver-Osoyoos region, setting off a demand for orchard workers in the southern Okanagan, reports Angus Thomas, manager of the Pentiction Unemployment Insurance Commission office.

This demand will rise sharply within the next three weeks, says Mr. Thomas, as cherry picking begins elsewhere in the southern valley. It is expected to start in Pentiction and vicinity in a week's time, he adds.

The need for orchard workers will be further accentuated when the picking of a very heavy apricot crop begins about the middle of July.

At present workers are being employed in orchards locally to undertake thinning. Mr. Thomas reports that the orchard work situation throughout the southern valley is probably a week in advance of what it was last year at this same time.

The general employment picture in Pentiction and the rest of the South Okanagan is good, reports the UIC manager, with few unemployed applicants being registered at the local office.

Figures for Thursday of last week show that 207 male applicants were unemployed at that time and 143 female. Most of the men were in the older age category while most of the unemployed women were sales clerks, office clerks and similar workers.

These figures compare with those for the same time last month of 349 male and 185 female unemployed applicants.

NEW BOOKS

"Jesting Apostle" The Story of Shaw

By United Press

A man who was a close friend and neighbor of George Bernard Shaw for many years looked upon the distinguished playwright as a "jesting apostle." Stephen Winsten's newest book for Shawiana is a biography "Jesting Apostle" (Dutton), subtitled "The Private Life of Bernard Shaw."

It offers a clear-cut picture of the controversial writer who was also, surprisingly, "an excellent salesman, polite, knowledgeable and meticulously honest."

That description fit the young man shortly after he moved to London from his native Ireland. His job was selling music scores in a shop near Baker Street, but he did not stay long at it. He soon became a writer of essays, and began to realize that "his literary mission was to be a mental scavenger," trying to rid the world of "obsolete ideas, delusions and lies."

In the years of writing that followed, his work was marked by a sense of mischief "so ingrained that nothing was holy; no intimacy above betrayal, no loves above mockery." Winsten saw him as a man of great exuberance; Shaw's Fabian Society colleagues looked upon him as one who always preferred "the wild assertion to the qualified fact." Shaw regarded himself as above "such trivialities as consistency and fashion." To each friend, enemy, or mere acquaintance, he was a different man. Winsten has succeeded in presenting many facets of this complicated character in a short book that relies heavily on direct quotes from GBS and excerpts from his letters.

The image of a ship under full sail, with its sides jutting cannon fire is a familiar one to American readers and moviegoers, epitomizing sea warfare before modern fleets of steel steamships became a reality.

It is rather startling to realize that the era of fighting sail actually lasted less than 300 years — from 1573, when the Dutch beat the Spanish in the first real action of sail-driven cannon, until about the time of the U.S. Civil War.

"Broadides and Boarders" by Marvin H. Albert (Appleton-Century) reviews this brief but glorious period and the men who made it — the Dutch who launched it against tremendous odds, the British semi-pirates and generals-at-sea who carried it on, the fledgling Americans and the greatest fighter under sail, Horatio Adm. Lord Nelson, who smashed the sea might of Napoleon.

It is a record for the most part of incredible bravery with an occasional leaven of incomprehensible stupidity or cowardice. The old saying about "wooden ships and iron men" had more than a grain of truth.

Albert, whose interest in the sea dates from his days as a merchant-marine radio operator in World War II, has mastered his subject thoroughly enough to speak of historic admirals and great battles as though he knew them at first hand. Scholars of naval history may dispute Albert's conclusions on some points, but they can scarcely argue the effectiveness of his portrayal of the daring men who trusted their lives to cannonballs and canvas in the days when modern sea power was being born.

Gabriel Fielding's first novel to be published in America, "In the Time of Greenbloom" (Morrow), could very well be his best. He has chosen a most difficult type of "hero" (a pre-adolescent boy) to portray, and has brought off the feat of sureness, and vivid intensity.

Young John Blaydon is twelve when he first meets Victoria Blount. It is difficult to speak of love at that age, but a bond that includes all its elements is immediately established between the two. Their meetings are few; that first embarrassing, frightening, and beautifully understanding afternoon, a "wedding" some months later, and a country summer that ends in a paralyzing tragedy. Blaydon's name appears in headlines all over England and he becomes branded as a problem child. He wanders from school to expelling school, trying to live with the vision of beauty that he had known, and that could not last. Horab Greenbloom, a rich, Oxfordian eccentric, begins to show him the way out of his labyrinth, but it remains for an improbably named Irish girl, Dymphna Uprichard,

B.C. FISHING FLEETS SET

Soon British Columbia fishing fleets will be gathering at coastal ports to begin the 1957 salmon fishing season. Our fishing vessels are second to none in modern construction and equipment. These gill-nets on the Fraser River near Steveston are ready to harvest sockeye and other salmon runs worth millions of dollars.

Life Flourishes In Conditions Of Mars

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., (UP) — "Living organisms" survived and "flourished" in experiments with soil similar to that on the planet Mars, according to a report read Tuesday by three scientists from the air force school of aviation medicine.

But whether intelligent life exists on Mars is still a mystery, the report said. The report was the first of note on the planet Mars submitted at the three-day meeting of scientists from the United States, Canada, Germany, France and Greece.

Major reports are expected on the outcome of a lengthy study undertaken by the International Mars committee, which is co-sponsor of the conference at the Lowell Observatory and Arizona State college. Portions of the reports will be based on 1956 observations of the planet from South Africa.

The report today on survival of living organisms in the form of "nitrogen-loving bacteria" was made by Dr. Hubertus Strunghol, the nation's top authority on space medicine.

Others participating in the eight-month experiment at the air force school of medicine near San Antonio, Tex., were Dr. Roland B. Mitchell, chief of the school's medical sciences division, and Lt. John A. Kooistra, Jr., who is conducting the studies.

To duplicate conditions which research indicates exist on Mars, Kooistra collected soil samples from the Grand Canyon, McConagal Pass on Mt. McKinley in Alaska, and the Painted Desert of Arizona. The report submitted said the pulverized red sandstone from the Painted Desert "even looks like the soil of Mars."

Kooistra simulated atmospheric conditions as closely as possible, placing the soil in bottles. The sustenance available was organic material in the soil samples which had been accumulated. The oxygen-rich air was replaced by pure, dry nitrogen.

Mars has a day almost exactly the length of our own. The cold that envelopes Mars from late afternoon until an hour or so after dawn was simulated by keeping jars overnight in refrigerators, at temperatures well below freezing.

During the day, they were brought out and allowed to warm up to room temperature in the air-conditioned laboratory. The microbes multiplied in the warmth of the day. Most of them survived the cold at night.

When the moisture in the soil was more than one per cent, as it may be on Mars after the polar caps melt in the spring, the bacteria thrived. When it fell below one per cent, as in the dry Martian winter, the population declined.

But a certain number remained, and were able to reproduce, in a moisture content of only two-fifths of one per cent. The school of aviation medicine now is preparing to see whether these hardier specimens can breed bacteria able to live and multiply with even less moisture in the ground.

The experiments indicate that the basic stuff of life can endure, and possibly even generate new strains that are better adapted to the harsh climate they find on Mars, the scientists indicated.

So good

Here's bread with a tasty difference! Dependable Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast makes it quick and easy!

Rolled-out Bread

- Measure into bowl
1 cup rolled oats
2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 tablespoons shortening
Stir in 1 1/2 cups boiling water and let stand until lukewarm.
- In the meantime, measure into a large bowl
1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 teaspoons granulated sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with contents of 2 envelopes Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Stir in prepared rolled out mixture and
- 1/2 cup lightly-packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons molasses
2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour and beat until smooth and elastic. Work in an additional 2 1/2 cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour
- Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead until smooth and elastic; place in greased bowl. Brush top of dough with melted shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour.
- Punch down dough. Turn out and divide in half. Let rest 15 minutes, then shape each half into a loaf. Place in greased loaf pans (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches, top inside measure). Brush with melted butter, margarine or shortening. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°, about 50 minutes. Yield: 2 loaves.

YEAR-ROUND CANADIAN ARMY VEHICLE IN ACTION

UNDERGOING its first summer test at Ottawa in 20 feet of water is this unique vehicle known to the Canadian Army as the "carrier, cargo, light, articulated." It was developed by Canadair Limited. Designed primarily for travelling in deep powdered snow, it also negotiates swamp, muskeg and other difficult terrain as well as deep water, with full loads, and can be parachuted. A group from the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars rides over the snow outside Canadair plant. A second vehicle acts as cargo-carrier. "It's a real work-horse," said the test driver.

UNITED KINGDOM OPINION

Unpopular Rent Act Loses Gov't Votes

By "ONLOOKER"

Thomson Newspapers
London, England Bureau

With the Labor Opposition benches in the House of Lords empty as a mark of silent protest, one of the most controversial acts of Parliament since the war received its Royal Assent here. On to the statute books goes the Rent Act. Already, it has helped to lose votes for Mr. Macmillan's Conservative government. It is due to lose many more.

The Rent Act allows private landlords of some 6,000,000 houses in Britain to put up rent — for many of them, the first time since 1939. It means — at least hopes the government — that landlords will be getting something like an economic return for their "investments." For millions, an increase in rent is inevitable.

There are hundreds of thousands of houses in this country which cost their tenants under three dollars a week. They are not mansions — most of them are in the industrial districts, or in remote areas. Most of them are old. Most of them are shabby, most of them neglected because, although rents have been kept the same since 1939, repair costs have gone up three and a half times.

Now, hopes the government, and in particular, chubby-faced Henry Brooke, who became housing minister this first ministerial post late in his political career, was immediately saddled with the unpopular Rent Act to steer through Parliament, more private landlords will be encouraged to re-let their houses and apartments unfurnished when the existing tenants move out. Up to now, the practice has been to get rid of rented property once tenants move away and it can be put on the market with the added "Vacant Possession" tag.

ONLY STRIR

The passing of the Rent Act has been the only political stir worth mentioning here. And anyhow, when Britain is faced with a Test match, (Britain's cricket equivalent of the World Series) and the famous Derby (horse race) in one week, it is difficult to get her interested in anything else.

I've still got to get bitten by the fascination the English have when it comes to 22 men (plus a couple of umpires that always remind me, with their white coats and hats, of impolite clerks in a drug store) in white shirts and flannel trousers intent on a small hard ball. Radioes are taken to work, commentaries listened to throughout the day. The boss does not seem to mind. He is usually more cricket-crazy than his employees.

This year, though, I am resolved to make an effort to see one of the five cricket Test matches they are holding in England. Visiting opposition this year is the West Indies team.

Since their last visit, Britain has been receiving a lot of West Indians as immigrants. They now form a hefty segment of the crowd whenever the West Indies team turns out, and they provide the nearest thing to a cheer section the very English game of cricket has had since it was first thought of. They even bring their own skiffle groups and calypso bands along. For entertainment you do not have to watch the game, but the spectators . . .

And, of course, the Derby has attracted attention. It is the only horse race, apart from the Grand National, that most Britons take a keen interest in, and the amount of "bet-on-the-odds" or "half-a-crown-to-win" bets put on by people who never touch gambling or horses is fantastic. Main attraction for most who do not know one end of a nag from another in the Derby is the fact that there are always one or two horses at crazy odds. There was one this year, at 1000 to one. Thousands risked 70 cents on it, reckoning that they would not miss the money and, anyhow, if by some miracle it did win they would have $700 in their pockets.

Mind you, the 1000-to-one chance did not come in. But in the meantime there was a lot of dreaming in Britain . . .

IMPORTANCE OF ERNIE . . . There was a little more gambling in Britain this week. In the seaside town of Lytham St. Annes — a quiet, refined neighbor to the bustling resort of Blackpool — a politician called Ernest pressed a button on a machine called Ernie. And Britain's first state lottery got into motion.

Being decided by Ernie, a huge electronically-controlled machine, were the prize winners in the Premier Bonds draw a savings stunt thought up six months ago. The idea is to buy bonds, value $2.80 and forego interest on them. The money saved by the government that way provides prizes in the lottery.

For those who bought bonds during the first month, last November, there was a 2100-to-one chance of getting a prize. Now the odds are getting longer. That is why the other Ernie — Ernest Marples, the Postmaster-General — hopes that the excitement beside the seaside will do a little to attract more interest. After good sales six months ago interest is slight, and in the meantime a huge staff has been gathered at Lytham St. Annes to cope with the business that is no longer coming in.

Brightest of the news stories this week are those by "Daily Mail" reporter Rhona Churchill who like so many other feature writers of the national press these days, is following the lead given by "Canada Review" (Britain's only Canadian newspaper) in supplying the facts of Canadian life to the British public. Miss Churchill has recently travelled with a load of British emigrants to Canada and watched their progress. She has recorded successes among the emigrants, and the failures.

Her reports hardly come under the heading of news to Canadians. She tells again the known truths, but at least she has added more food for thought to thousands of would-be emigrants.

16 Centres Studying Muscular Dystrophy

Almost $220,000 has been granted to medical research centres across Canada to carry on 16 different projects designed to find the cause and eventually a cure for muscular dystrophy.

This was announced by Toronto lawyer, Arthur Minden at the annual meeting of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada, of which he is president. Mr. Minden added that another $220,000 was made available by last November's successful campaign which raised just over $256,000. Campaign costs were less than eight percent of the total collected.

Gus Ryder, honorary campaign chairman for the past two years, thanked press, radio and television for their generous support as well as the thousands of volunteer workers such as the fire-fighters of over 200 communities whose efforts made it possible to raise that amount of money at such a small cost.

"If you could see the new hope shining in the faces of some of the youngsters at my Lakeshore Swimming Club who have muscular dystrophy," said Mr. Ryder, "you would realize that your efforts have not been in vain."

During the two years he has been honorary campaign chairman, Mr. Ryder reported that one-half million dollars had been raised to start research projects, establish clinics and help the victims of muscular dystrophy in such practical ways as providing wheelchairs.

Mr. Minden said the association felt basic research held the answer to the problem of finding the cause and perhaps the cure for muscular dystrophy.

"No research was being done three years ago," he said, "but today the enthusiastic response and support of the medical profession has given us reason to believe that our approach to the problem of muscular dystrophy was correct. Today there are 16 research projects in progress at medical centres from Vancouver to Halifax. These vary from an essay of the enzymes of human skeleton muscle, through genetics of muscular and neuromuscular diseases to the designing and construction of self-help devices."

Mr. Minden added "Muscular Dystrophy is tied in with so many other illnesses that we believe our approach along these lines of basic research will not only win our battle, but will help others in so doing."

BEE WINS BATTLE WITH CAR DRIVER

SUMMERLAND — A battle between a man and a bee resulted in a Salmon Arm man being sent to hospital with facial cuts and abrasions.

Lacey Fisher, teacher at the Salmon Arm high school, was returning home Monday morning after spending the weekend in Summerland when he became involved in an altercation with a bee.

The insect was routed but the distracted driver lost control of his car.

Mr. Lacey suffered no serious injuries and the bee escaped unharmed.

5,000 Salmon Fishermen Get Set For Strike

VANCOUVER, (BUP) — Negotiations between the fishermen and allied workers union and the Fisheries Association of B.C. about the prices to be paid salmon fishermen stalled Tuesday as the union and the association refused to back down from their positions.

Some 5,500 salmon fishermen have scheduled a strike for Saturday.

The fishermen are asking an increase of five cents per pound in the price paid them for sockeye salmon and similar increases for the lower grades.

L. L. Harrison, spokesman for the association, called the union's price demands "unrealistic". He said both domestic and export markets were being jeopardized by current salmon prices and any increase could have a "disastrous" effect on sales.

FIRST FAMILY REUNION IN 12 YEARS

A family reunion at the Summerland Experimental Farm marked the visit of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore with their children Kim and Leslie. Dr. Moore is a research chemist of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. at Chalk River, Ontario. He presented a paper at the annual meeting of the Chemical Institute of Canada in Vancouver.

ver early in the month. Mrs. Moore, the former Mary Woodworth, spent her youth in the Okanagan, and the family are visiting relatives at Oliver and Kelowna. For the first time in twelve years the four children of the late K. D. Woodworth were together. There are twelve grandchildren. Back row left to right, Mrs. A. M. Moore, Dr.

Moore, Mrs. Nan Dewick of Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. John Woodworth of Kelowna, Second row - Dinah, Cindy, Mrs. and Mr. Noel Woodworth of Oliver, Billy, Vickie, Robin and Carol. Robin and Carol are the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Woodworth. Front row - Kim and Leslie Moore; the twins, John and Nola; and Roy and Helen Dewick.

New Municipal Act Explained To City

An interpretation of some phases of the new B.C. Municipal Act was given by city clerk Monday by City Clerk H. G. Andrew. This came as part of a report on the B.C. Municipal Officers' convention which both Mr. Andrew and City Treasurer H. W. Cooper attended.

The clerk said legal authorities attending the conference agreed that municipalities should proceed to pass their new store hour regulating bylaws, ignoring the fact that the governing clause in the new measure omitted the words "and remain closed."

He said these legal men thought the constitutionality of this portion of the act should be tested in the courts.

Reporting further on the act, the clerk reminded council that after July 1 the town planning and irrigation commissions as presently constituted will disappear. The town planning body will be "advisory only." It will not automatically have representatives of either the school board or city council among its group, if one is named. "The council may appoint, if it wishes, a group to advise it on matters dealing with town planning," he said.

ZONING APPEAL BOARD

The zoning board of appeal will be restricted in its authority and may deal only with:

a) A complaint from a person who is aggrieved by a decision of any official charged with the enforcement of a zoning bylaw.

b) A complaint from an applicant for a permit who alleges that enforcement of a zoning bylaw with respect to siting, size or shape of a building or of a structure would cause him undue hardship, in which case the board may to the extent necessary to effect its determination, exempt the applicant from the applicable provision of the zoning bylaw.

c) A lawful use of a building existing at the time of the adoption of the zoning bylaw, although such use does not conform to the provisions of the Zoning Bylaw may be extended throughout the building, but no structural alterations except those required by Statute or by Bylaw or those allowed by the Zoning Board of Appeal shall be made therein or thereto.

d) Where any building, the use of which does not conform to the provisions of an applicable Zoning Bylaw, is damaged or destroyed to the extent of 75 per cent or more of its value above its foundations as determined by the Building Inspector, his decision shall be subject to review by the Zoning Board of Appeal. The building shall not be repaired or reconstructed other than for a conforming use, except in accordance with the Zoning Bylaw.

COURT OF REVISION

Instead of appointing a court of revision "as occasion necessitates," the council will, under the new act, appoint one at the first meeting in January each year. This body will then deal with court of revision tasks throughout the year, and it will not be necessary to swear in a fresh panel at each occasion where such a court of revision is needed.

On voters' lists, names of companies will not appear automatically; they can only do so when an agent is appointed to vote for them.

In regulating business, the city cannot include in its bylaws or rules any provision "prohibiting" the operation of a business.

Regarding program of work to be undertaken under a council initiative local improvement scheme, the act will provide that work must be undertaken within two years from the enactment of a construction bylaw and this bylaw should be enacted immediately by the clerk certifies that the petition is sufficient. The act is silent, however, in respect to a time limit on the council initiative scheme.

Discussion on this indicated the general interpretation was that the work is to be undertaken within a "reasonable" time, but that the act will be amended at the next session to clarify this point, Mr. Andrew said.

Interpretation of this is that no council can then extend its initiative schemes to too great an extent, making much of planning and little of actual execution. Some difficulties along this line had occurred at some places in the province in past years.

Ald. P. F. Eraut recommended that council commend Mr. Andrew for his report, which he termed was clear-cut and concise.

Speaking on the store closing issue Ald. Eraut said, "This, and other communities have passed a lot of bylaws in the past that were ultra vires. I don't like passing a further measure that isn't sound law."

Amusement Park Opens For Kiddies - Any Age

Fun for the kiddies - any age - will be offered by a permanent amusement park opening tomorrow in Penticton.

With a ferris wheel, merry-go-rounds and other rides, Skaha Lake Amusement Park will operate throughout the summer months.

The only one of its kind permanently set up in the Okanagan valley, the new amusement centre is located on the west side of south Main street at the junction of Skaha Lake road and Lakeside road.

It will be open daily from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The factory-built rides have been set up by A. J. Ody of Penticton who believes the new amusement park will be a big attraction for tourists.

There will be a ferris wheel and an eight-bucket "octopus," a merry-go-round for tiny tots, an "airplane" merry-go-round for older children, and a "monkey-land" where youngsters can watch in safety the amusing antics of a number of monkeys and a chimpanzee.

And there'll be hot dogs and other snacks on sale.

The new amusement centre will hold three opening days, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, with special opening offers.

New Building Bylaw Needs Amendments

After a long discussion between council members, city building inspector George Corbin, and other city officials, Penticton city council Monday night gave final reading to its building regulation bylaw.

However immediate steps for amending the bylaw are being taken by Mr. Corbin.

The building inspector said some of the clauses in the measure, which is the National Building Code, with a few amendments, are contradictory. Others are not suited to local conditions and would give rise to problems if allowed to remain in the local bylaw.

Other changes can be made as amendments to the national code are received, it was agreed.

Mr. Corbin said that an adjustment on a twice yearly basis would be often enough for these items, once the central legislation itself has been established.

The building inspector will prepare a list of the changes that are recommended and these will then be discussed with council at a special committee session. An amending bylaw will then be passed eliminating the need for retying the entire heavy volume of the bylaw proper.

Mr. Pauls explained the hospital is still $20,000 in the hole on operations from 1953 to '56 inclusive despite a recent adjustment from BCHHS on 1956 operations. What moneys will be available this year cannot be known until the hospital's BCHHS approved budget for 1957 is received.

He repeated earlier explanations that the government has left the hospital board in a position of responsibility without authority. "We have to make the decisions but we have no assurance that the money will be forthcoming. Indeed we have repeated admissions that costs must be rigidly controlled."

Small children's play, however meaningless it appears to an adult, is important in the ground-work of the child's character since through it he learns team play and to accept situations as they arise. These preschoolers need outdoor exercise and, if possible, facilities for climbing and sliding.

New Campbell River Power Plant Opens

CAMPBELL RIVER - British Columbia's newest source of hydro-electric power, the B.C. Power Commission's Ladore Falls plant, is being officially opened here by Premier W. A. C. Bennett today.

Second stage of the giant Campbell River hydro-electric development, the Ladore Falls station will be inspected by representatives of the federal, provincial and municipal governments, industry, business, contractors and suppliers before Premier Bennett pushes the button which will send water cascading through the turbines to start the generators turning.

The plant adds 70,000 horsepower to the 168,000 horsepower now generated at the John Hart plant. Both generating stations use the same water storage.

Wednesday's opening will be symbolic only. One generator has been in operation at Ladore since Dec. 29 of last year. The second unit went into service in April, 1957.

Two years in construction, the plant cost $10,000,000 to build and is fully automatic. Designed for remote control from the John Hart station downstream, the plant can also be manually operated at the site. Daily output is sufficient to supply the average home with electricity for 500 years.

The station is of semi-outdoor design, the building itself reaching only to the height of the top of the generators. Each generator is enclosed under a removable hatch cover and the generator can be hoisted vertically out of the building for repair or overhaul.

Official visitors to the project are also seeing the huge earth dam at Upper Campbell Lake in the final stage of construction. This is the third stage of the Campbell River development, which, when completed, will raise the level of Butte Lake to provide water storage for all three generating stations.

Work on the development has been accelerated to take advantage of all possible run-off during the remainder of this year, when snow courses have been far below normal.

In addition to the three power generation stations, the development includes the diversion of the Quinsam, Salmon and Heber Rivers into the Campbell River system. Terms of water licenses for the diversions provide for sufficient flow maintenance to protect the fishing.

The Quinsam diversion has been completed, the Salmon River work is underway and tenders were called by the Power Commission last week for diversion works on the Heber River.

share for the parks commission," he added.

"I do not think the taxpayer should be asked for more than nine and a half per cent of the total expenditure, for parks and arena purposes," added Ald. H. M. Geddes.

"That's sound reasoning," stated Ald. P. F. Eraut, "but you cannot permit a roof to continue in a leaking condition, so some action is required."

"If you leave it, it could start to decay," remarked Mayor C. E. Oliver.

Ald. Eraut explained to council that both the purlins and the main roof planks had sagged, each differentially from the other. This had created a bad condition, he said, adding that unless it is fixed it could cause deterioration, which so far had not occurred. He assured Mayor Oliver, in reply to a question, that the big timber arches in the structure are so far unaffected, also that there is no danger of collapse or other hazard to the building as a whole.

City Clerk H. G. Andrew told council that a request had been sent to the board asking them to outline where they were going to spend the money, insofar as the arena is concerned. This would of necessity include an explanation of where the money for the roof repairs would be found.

The clerk also stated that the particular section of the new Act wiping out elective parks boards had not yet been "made effective" by the Lt. Governor-in-Council, but as soon as this cabinet action occurs, the board's existence ends. "And that could be any time," Mr. Andrew stated.

A discussion of the necessary re-integration of the city parks departments into the main stream of civic works and administration was held. Both council and officials agreed this must be planned well ahead so as to avoid difficulties or hardships to all concerned. City Treasurer Cooper said that it would be a reversal, with some slight differences of the procedure involved when the election board was set up a few years ago.

BROADWAY

Music Tent Catching On

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, (UP) - The movement that St. John Terrell started back in 1949 when he opened the first "musical tent" in Lambertville, N.J., for the summer stock presentation of tune shows staged arena style has grown every year since until now there are 19 such enterprises throughout the country.

Terrell started his Lambertville season this year on June 1. Others have opened or are about to do so for seasons of 10 weeks or more.

The tents, which seat many more persons than the average countryside non-musical summer stock theatre, have become big grossers as people have flocked to them in increasing numbers through the years.

The Musical Area Theater Association estimates that more than 10 million customers have been accommodated since 1949 and that this summer's attendance will exceed 2,500,000.

From Lambertville the tent theatres spread to Hyannis, Mass., on Cape Cod; then to Highland Park, a suburb of Chicago, Ill.; Sacramento, Calif.; Cohasset, Mass.; Skaneateles, N.Y.; Ashbury Park, N.J.; Cleveland, Ohio; Wallingford, Conn.; Warwick, R.I.; Detroit, Mich.; Beverly, Mass.; Clio Mich.; North Tonawanda, N.Y.; and Concordville, Pa. The Westchester Musical Theater, Rye, N.Y., is the one new musical tent to open this year.

"The Pajama Game" by far will be the most popular show this season. It is scheduled for more weeks and by more tents than any other particular show. Other popular shows will be "Plain and Fancy," "Silk Stockings," "South Pacific," "Can-Can," "Oklahoma," "Hello, Dolly!," "Naughty Marietta," "The Merry Widow" and "The Student Prince."

The Sacramento Music Circus is doing "Peter Pan" with actual flying equipment; Cleveland's Musical Carnival is doing an English version of "Tosca"; Brandywine's producers Gordon Rust and John Stark have induced comedians Olson and Johnson to attempt the arena tents this summer, and Terrell is doing an ice show at his Lambertville and Ashbury Park big-tops.

More Speeders Than Ever Being Caught

AGGASIZ, (BUP) — Police are catching more speeders in the lower mainland than ever before. Police figures show that 218 motorists received speeding tickets in Vancouver alone last week. That's 18 more than the week before.

There's a similar increase in all areas around Vancouver.

Agreement Reached On 3 Subdivisions

After considerable discussion between the owners and city council on Monday night, agreement was reached in respect to three subdivisions near Huth avenue in Penticton.

Three different formats were placed on council table by Supt. E. R. Gayfer, with the owners favoring only one of these.

The men involved, L. Overend and J. A. Thom, were told that under the new municipal Act coming into force in a few days, the council would set up an area plan and the owners would not be able to protest it. Faced with this they agreed to obtain a small sliver of private property from another owner, permitting development of a lane to serve the area. This lane will have a small jog in it, but the arrangement will allow one owner an extra lot.

The area plans have been debated several times during the past few months. Council members indicated satisfaction that a final settlement of the problems before the town planning committee had been reached. The plan will be mission, and subject to their final approval will become effective.

PTA Honors Queen's Park Grade 6 Grads

Some 40 grade six graduates of Queen's Park elementary school who will enter junior high school in the fall, were guests at the regular meeting of the Queen's Park P-TA Monday evening, along with their parents.

Awards to the two top students in the class were presented by George Goodhew. Wayne Wiebe, with the highest class average of 93.8 percent, received a leather loose-leaf binder and June Russell, who gained the second highest average of 91.5 percent, received a fountain pen.

Tedna Payton was given honorable mention. The program, including songs by members of the class and a play "Ransom of Redskin," was highlighted with the presentation of a recorder to the school. Presentation was made by Mrs. R. Potter, on behalf of the students, to D. Tully of the teaching staff.

Two door prizes went to Mrs. Joe Senger and Mrs. Howard Markle.

Mrs. G. Christie won the draw for a food hamper.

Attendance award went to Mr. Tully's grade six class.

At the business session prior to the program honoring the grade six graduates, the newly elected officers of the P-TA were installed in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. R. Potter.

The new officers are Mrs. F. Kay, president; Mrs. R. Keeley, vice-president; Mrs. W. S. Sutherland, secretary; Mrs. R. Bonin, treasurer; Miss M. Johnston, Mrs. G. Puddy, Mrs. J. Smith and Mrs. W. R. Madill, social committee; Mrs. C. Fraser and Mrs. M. Adams, membership committee; Mrs. Dnn, program; Mrs. R. Keeley, public relations.

Retiring president Mrs. Potter expressed a vote of thanks to the teachers at Queen's Park school for their assistance during the past year. She also expressed regrets that three of the teachers—W. Krause, Mrs. F. Crook and Mrs. R. Catlin—are leaving.

A report on the recent P-TA convention at Vancouver was given by Mrs. Gordon Strang of the elementary P-TA. Mrs. R. Smith reported on the report card questionnaire circulated among parents as a joint project of local P-TA's.

A past-president's pin was presented to Mrs. Potter by Mrs. Kay Wilson.

PRUNES WELL DONE SCOTIA, N.Y., (UP) — Firemen battered their way into the apartment of Mrs. John McGinn here after a gust of wind blew a door shut, locking her out and smoke began pouring from the windows. The firefighters burst into the apartment in time to turn off the flame under a pot of charred prunes.

Street Widening Plan To Be Reconsidered

Reconsideration of widening of Eckhardt avenue west was recommended by council on Monday night. It was shown that under the plan as presently outlined, the entire 30 foot widening strip would be taken from the south side of the street only.

"This was suggested because the city owns the golf course land, and acquisition of it would be simpler than acquisition of private property," said City Clerk H. G. Andrew.

The matter was brought to council by Olin & Webber, who want to build a warehouse on property not far from Railway street.

The applicants stated that a standard setback of 35 feet is provided for in this district. Adding the 30 feet to that would deprive the lot of 65 feet of depth, and cramp their plans for a warehouse. They reported they are utilizing makeshift space at the present time for their operations and urgently need to start building.

Mayor C. E. Oliver took strong exception to the idea of having the whole thirty foot slice taken from one side of the street. Other members of council concurred in this view, agreeing that council should look farther into the problem and then give an answer to the owners within ten days.

Caldow Returns To Summerland For Summer

Gordon L. Caldow has returned to the chemistry division at the Plant Pathology laboratory at Summerland to work in the field of minor element disorders of fruit trees for the balance of the university summer recess.

He obtained the degree of B.A. (honors) in 1955 at UBC and the M.A. at University of Saskatchewan this spring.

Mr. Caldow has been awarded a Shell Oil Company scholarship in the amount of $2,000 per year for two years, and will leave in September for Oxford University where he will study towards his D.Ph. degree in chemistry.

Mr. Caldow was born in Salmon Arm and received his early schooling in Kelowna. His parents reside in Winfield.

REFLECTING NATURE'S BEAUTY

The first blush of summer comes to an appreciative land as seen here reflected in a quiet pool of water. Most people will recognize the familiar place—the quaint little church on the Indian reservation—a favorite landmark for photographers through the four seasons. Here is a different aspect as the little creek which runs by the property rises beyond its banks to provide mirror-like "lake" and a perfect reflection.

Traffic Light Awaits Safety Council Survey

The Penticton Safety Council is being asked by city council to undertake a study of traffic conditions at the intersection of Nanaimo avenue and Martin street, and also to give its views on traffic light locations at other parts of the city.

A motion was made at Monday night's council meeting for purchase of a set of signals for the Nanaimo-Martin junction, but it was not put to a vote. The suggestion that a study be made of the traffic conditions before lights are purchased superseded the purchase recommendation.

Both Mayor C. E. Oliver and Ald. P. P. Erout said there had, so far as they knew, been no serious accident at that corner. Other members of council suggested that it is better to have safety measures in effect before there is an accident than to take steps after they happen.

Ald. J. G. Harris, who initiated the discussion on traffic lights, said there is an increasing volume of pedestrian traffic at this corner.

Whereupon city electrical engineer A. Amundsen quoted a brochure he had received, which stated that traffic signals are not safety devices and can on occasion cause accidents rather than prevent them. Council members agreed that lights are a means of controlling traffic flow rather than a method of accident prevention.

Ald. F. P. McPherson, chairman of the traffic committee, suggested there are other corners that might require the signals far more than did the one under discussion. He cited the Wade-Winnipeg, and Eckhardt-Winnipeg junctions as cases in point.

Council had already gone into the matter of lights at Westminster and Winnipeg, and will discuss this with the provincial department of highways, which has shared costs of lights on highways, where these are deemed necessary.

From the discussion of location, council turned to a debate on type of light to be used. It was stated the provincial government does not approve of the single overhead, centre-of-intersection type of light, and will not permit them to be installed on highways.

While it was agreed that cost is a factor, council members said they would far rather see the extra $1,000 spent on the type that is now in use in the city, than on the intersection centre type. The single light would cost $1,500 approximately, and the four-corner system about $2,500.

General approval for the plan whereby the lights are suspended over the traffic lanes was also recorded.

Mayor Oliver said he would regret it if the proposed survey would mean a further drain on the civic purse. Other members of council agreed however that such need not be the case, and that the local safety council would probably be very glad to provide themselves useful to the city.

Pending their report, the original plan for immediate purchase of one set of lights will be held in abeyance, but an early decision is considered by council to be desirable.

Tighter Curbs On Dogs Mooted

Ald. A. C. Kendrick reported to Penticton city council Monday night that he had received complaints from residents of Balfour street regarding depredations by dogs. Others around council table reported similar complaints from other parts of the city.

"Other cities must be more stringent than we are in the carrying out of their bylaws on dogs," said Ald. J. G. Harris. He said that friends from Calgary had told him that a dog that left the owner's property or was off the leash was promptly impounded.

It was agreed the city pound-keeper is working hard on the problem, but that further support or new rulings might be needed.

Which Has Priority, Topography Or Law?

What does a man do when he can't observe zoning regulations to the letter because of topographical circumstances?

Penticton city council was asked this question Monday night and referred the questioner to the town planning commission.

D. Davies told council he had purchased a piece of property on Bunesyde and after moving a house onto it, discovered the house was not situated according to zoning regulations. He said the lot in question requires a setback of 25 feet but he could set it back only 21 feet because of topographical limitations and the shape of the lot.

Council expressed sympathy for his position but agreed that regulations should be followed. Aldermen suggested the town planning commission was the only body that could deal with the matter.

CAMEO CAMERA CLICKS

By: HUGO REDIVO

The time of year is sneaking up on us when outdoor junkies with your camera a constant companion, will be regular affairs. Whether you find yourself on a quiet country road, at a lake or in the mountains, the material for good scenic shots will be all about you.

Generally speaking, it might be good practice to be wary of noontime shooting for scenic pictures for the simple reason that shadows at this time of day are shortest and haven't benefit of long shadows to help create a feeling of depth and texture. Composition plays a big part in scenic pictures and you should bear in mind that a landscape can't be moved or arranged to suit your taste, but you can, with a little thoughtful study, seek out the best spot from which to get the best possible picture.

When it comes to seeking out the best possible portrait or wedding pictures, however, you'll have no problem—simply try CAMEO PHOTO SUPPLIES, 464 Main St. Seriously, along with our lengthy experience in portrait photography, we have set rather high standards of excellence which can only mean complete satisfaction with every job. IT'S ALWAYS COTTAGE CHEESE TIME...

You may be surprised to learn that most anything you make in your kitchen has a cottage cheese version... yet whether you're planning the main dish, salad, dessert, or perhaps hors d'oeuvre for a party, there's an interesting recipe for using cottage cheese. The cottage cheese variation of old-time favorites makes for culinary excitement at anytime of the year... but particularly in the spring and summer months when cottage cheese plays a leading role in cool summer eating. In this dairy month of June... when dairy foods are at the peak of their production... we're featuring cottage cheese in Cottage Rice Pudding, a dessert so decidedly different that even those who are not fans of rice pudding will be enthusiastic. Using quick cooking rice speeds the pudding along... the rice is cooked for about 4 minutes, then milk, the yolk of an egg, sugar, nutmeg, cottage cheese and raisins are added and the whole brought to the boiling point. To give the pudding a tart flavor, thick orange marmalade is stirred in, and after standing for 10 minutes, your pudding's ready to serve to four.

Cottage Rice Pudding (Makes 4 Servings)

1/2 cup quick cooking rice; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 3/4 cup water; 1/2 cup milk; 1 egg yolk, beaten slightly; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/2 cup cottage cheese; 1/4 cup raisins; 1/4 cup thick orange marmalade. Combine rice, salt and water in heavy saucepan or top of double boiler. Boil 4 minutes. Remove from heat and add milk, egg yolk, sugar, nutmeg, cottage cheese and raisins. Bring to boiling point, remove from heat and stir in marmalade. Cover and let stand for 10 minutes. Serve hot or warm.

Dairy Products Favored For Many Variations in Menus

Mild or full-flavored cheese, cottage cheese, ice cream or rich creamy milk can be combined with other ingredients or used alone to make good eating for summertime meals.

Serve hot toasty cheese strips, as something-to-munch-on with milk drinks, cream soups and salads, or make delicious cream sauces with milk and butter to serve over cooked green vegetables or as a base for scalloped dishes. An ice cream dessert is a perfect complement to any warm-weather menu.

A varied selection of recipes here offers many suggestions to the housewife for adding interest to home meals or party fare.

CHEESE SHORTBREADS

1/2 pound Canadian cheese, grated; 1/4 pound soft butter.

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour; 1/8 teaspoon dry mustard. 1. Cream the cheese and butter together.

2. Blend in flour and mustard. Shape into 1 inch balls. Roll in finely chopped nuts or crushed cornflakes; garnish with peanuts or almonds.

3. Place on cookie sheet, 1 inch apart, and chill several hours. 4. Bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 10 minutes. Do not brown. Serve hot or cold.

PRICKLY CHEESE BALLS

3 egg whites; 1/4 teaspoon onion or celery salt; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 cups grated Canadian cheese; 1 1/2 cups dry bread crumbs.

1. Beat egg whites until frothy, add salts and beat until eggs hold a definite peak.

2. Fold in cheese and 1/4 cup bread crumbs.

3. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto bread crumbs and roll gently into balls. Sprinkle top with almonds.

4. Bake on buttered cookie sheet in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 15 minutes or until golden brown.

ASPARAGUS CASSEROLE

1/4 cup butter; 1/4 cup flour; 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard; 4 teaspoons salt.

1. In top of double boiler melt butter and blend in flour seasoning. Remove from heat and gradually add milk.

2. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Add diced meat.

3. Spread one cup of bread crumbs over the bottom of a 1 1/2 quart buttered casserole. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup shredded cheese.

4. Arrange cooked asparagus stalks over cheese and cover with creamed meat mixture.

5. Top with remaining crumbs and cheese and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until lightly browned (about 30 minutes).

APRICOT BARS

2/3 cup dried apricots; 1/2 cup soft butter; 1/4 cup sugar.

1. In top of double boiler melt butter and blend in flour seasoning. Remove from heat and gradually add milk.

2. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Add diced meat.

3. Spread one cup of bread crumbs over the bottom of a 1 1/2 quart buttered casserole. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup shredded cheese.

4. Arrange cooked asparagus stalks over cheese and cover with creamed meat mixture.

5. Top with remaining crumbs and cheese and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until lightly browned (about 30 minutes).

6. medium tomatoes; 2 cups dry cottage cheese; 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing.

3 tablespoons chopped pickles; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento; 3 tablespoons chopped walnuts.

Peel tomatoes; cut slices from top and scoop out center. Sprinkle with salt; invert to chill. Combine remaining ingredients and mix well; fill tomato cups. Chill thoroughly. Serve on lettuce with additional mayonnaise. Serves 6.

DEVILED COTTAGE CHEESE

4 hard-cooked eggs, shelled; 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard; 2 teaspoons vinegar; 1 tablespoon chopped olives; 1 tablespoon pickle relish; 1/2 cups cottage cheese with chive.

1. In top of double boiler melt butter and blend in flour seasoning. Remove from heat and gradually add milk.

2. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Add diced meat.

3. Spread one cup of bread crumbs over the bottom of a 1 1/2 quart buttered casserole. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup shredded cheese.

4. Arrange cooked asparagus stalks over cheese and cover with creamed meat mixture.

5. Top with remaining crumbs and cheese and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until lightly browned (about 30 minutes).

6. medium tomatoes; 2 cups dry cottage cheese; 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing.

3 tablespoons chopped pickles; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento; 3 tablespoons chopped walnuts.

Peel tomatoes; cut slices from top and scoop out center. Sprinkle with salt; invert to chill. Combine remaining ingredients and mix well; fill tomato cups. Chill thoroughly. Serve on lettuce with additional mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Keremeos Interest Is Centred On Pretty Wedding

KEREMEOS — A wedding of particular interest in this valley took place recently, when Vivian Rae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Yochum of Clarkson Heights, Wash., became the bride of Eric Forner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Forner of Keremeos. The marriage was solemnized at 10 a.m. at the Clarkson Holy Family Roman Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Jode officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with yellow and white stocks and snapdragons.

For the ceremony the lovely young bride chose a white nylon and lace floor-length gown, fashioned with a bodice of imported lace; the full skirt was complemented with matching lace and tiny ruffles of fine nylon net. The bride's veil of net fell from a coronet of seed pearls. The bride's bouquet featured pale yellow roses and white stephanotis.

Mrs. Jack Smith of Richland, Wash., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing for the occasion an attractive frock of yellow taffeta; the two bridesmaids, Miss Lorilee Yochum, the bride's sister, and Miss Pat West of Spokane, were becoming dresses of aqua taffeta. All three attendants were becoming picture hats matching their frocks and carried bouquets of white marguerites. Susan Schumaker, petite cousin of the bride was a winsome flower girl in shell pink nylon with a matching picture hat. Her bouquet was of matching blossoms.

Herman Forner, brother of the groom, was best man and Alfred and Arnold Forner, both of Keremeos, were ushers. Altar boys were Richard and Melvin Wilbrand, cousins of the bride.

Harold Mosman, soloist, was accompanied by Miss Mary Ann Acharbach, who played traditional wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Yochum chose an attractive afternoon frock of dusty rose with which she wore white accessories. Mrs. Forner, mother of the groom, wore a becoming blue and white figured silk afternoon dress and white accessories. The corsage for both mothers were of yellow rosebuds and white marguerites.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Yochum entertained the members of the wedding party and the relatives and friends of the groom from Keremeos at a wedding breakfast and later a reception for about one hundred and fifty relatives and friends of the newly-married couple was held at the Yochum home.

A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was decorated with white balls and yellow roses; arrangements of harmonizing stocks and snapdragons were used in the floral decorations for the reception.

The bride, a graduate of Clarkson College, received her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics from Holy Names College at Spokane. She has been employed as a laboratory technician at Kaiser Aluminum Company at Spokane. The bridegroom, a graduate of Similkameen High School at Keremeos, received his degree in engineering at Gonzaga University and is employed by the Bechtel Gas Co. at Lake Mead, B.C. Following a short wedding trip the young couple are residing at Lake Mead.

The popular young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Guests at the wedding from Keremeos were Mr. and Mrs. Florian Forner, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Forner, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, and little daughter; Herman and Arnold Forner, brothers of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. F. Eichberger and little daughter; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clarke; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lamers.

Under-Estimating "Cot" Crop Can be Disastrous

KELOWNA — Wide discrepancies between Shippers' estimates and those of competent observers in the apricot crop now shaping is causing a great deal of concern to industry circles.

According to Mr. R. P. (Tiny) Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. the situation has been the subject of wide discussion in the fruit industry here in the Okanagan Valley.

A similar situation arose last year in the prune crop when the actual outturn exceeded estimates by approximately 70 percent.

"The prune deal last year was thrown into a chaotic mess by bad 'guesstimating,'" said Mr. Walrod. "Careful planning was useless when consumer marketing programs and cannery allotments geared weeks previously were suddenly confronted with hundreds of tons of fruit for which no provision had, or could, be made at that time."

The final outcome of that operation is still to be written. What could easily have been another routine selling assignment to the Growers' agency turned into a debacle. Canneries, having filled production schedules with competitive imported prunes and other commodities, were pressed to the limit.

Emergency measures had to be taken. As a result it will be many months, even with costly special promotions, before the surpluses have been cleared.

"We've faced difficult situations before," said Mr. Walrod, and the industry will likely have to face them again. What we must guard against is preventable error in the future, for mistakes like this cost real money and the grower himself suffers."

Apricot growers have a bumper crop in prospect — a "vintage year" in both size and quality according to B.C. Tree Fruits' top official. In fact, this could well be the biggest cot crop ever produced in B.C.

Mr. Walrod stressed the vital importance of accurate estimating in these words — "Surplus fruit over reasonable variation in forecasting can create a marketing problem just as critical as dumping of importations; while under-supply can badly embarrass our relations with the trade. Their selling plans always cost money and they depend on our pre-season offerings in making those plans, just as the agency depends on shipper estimates in its own planning operations."

Mr. Walrod urged growers to strive for utmost accuracy in estimating.

Although famous as the inventor of the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell always gave his profession as "a teacher of the deaf," his lifetime interest. He helped direct the education that enabled Helen Keller to communicate with others.

Shuttle Artists Receive Awards

OKANAGAN FALLS — Fay Mallory and Gordon Bogan were winners of the Junior cup donated by the Recreation commission at the badminton playoffs here last week.

Winners of the senior cup, donated by the badminton club, were Don (Lucky) Mallory and Marguerite O'Keefe. The following evening a winter roast was held for the members, parents and friends in the Robert Christie Memorial park. Mrs. E. Bazley, instructress for the past three months, was presented with a scenic picture by Miss Donna May Moriarty on behalf of the club.

Newcomers to the community are Mrs. A. Attwood and family, formerly of Trail, and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Hill and family.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Webster were Mr. and Mrs. R. Eaton of Vancouver.

A Red Cross swimming instructor has been obtained by the recreation commission for one day a week. Classes will be held at the Robert Christie Memorial park beach commencing the first week in July.

The last regular meeting of the Cubs group committee before the summer recess was held on Monday in the Legion Hall.

Guest speakers were District Commissioner J. Mitchell, District President F. McDonald and group contact chairman, J. Armour, all of Oliver.

Mrs. A. J. Mann Of Summerland Holds Art Show

SUMMERLAND — An art show was held by Mrs. A. J. Mann of Summerland in the board room of the Okanagan Regional Library at Kelowna last week.

These shows are held continuously by invitation throughout the year and the public is invited to attend.

A number of people from Summerland drove up to see the exhibit which included large and small paintings and silk screen-pictures.

Mrs. Mann has returned recently to the Okanagan after spending the winter in Moose Jaw. She is preparing five silk screen prints for the exhibition of the Canadian Stereograph Society to be held in Toronto this fall. She is an associate member of the society.

Snag Reported In Museum On Sicamous Plan

"I have run up against a snag in regard to the establishment of the museum on board the S.S. Sicamous," Ald. J. G. Harris told council Friday night.

He said that before the museum can be established there, some arrangement must be established whereby the revenue going to Mrs. W. Essen concessionaire in charge of the ship, is safeguarded.

Use of other quarters was discussed by some members of council, who expressed the view that a city-sponsored museum should not be subject to a door-charge, as is the case with the big stern-wheeler.

Upshot of the debate is that a concrete plan for both taking over, and paying for the R. N. Atkinson collection of historic items and artifacts and their proper housing will be worked out as soon as possible. A further report will be made within the next week or two regarding progress, council agreed.

City Closes Two 'Unnecessary' Lanes

Closure of two city lanes, one near the E. A. Titchmarsh property, the other between Churchill and Heales avenues was authorized by Penticton city council Monday night.

The first lane, on bench property, would serve no useful purpose it was agreed. The other had some time ago been recommended closed as being unnecessary, and also as constituting a traffic hazard for children.

Hedley Pensioners Visit Valley View

HEDLEY — Four auto loads of Old Age Pensioners organization members from Hedley drove to Penticton to visit Valley View Lodge recently.

The visitors were delighted with the lodge through which they were shown on a guided tour.

Former Hedley residents, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Jamieson, now staying at the lodge, renewed acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie of Hedley sang a duet "In the Garden". Tea was served by the matron of the lodge assisted by Mrs. White of Cawston.

The visitors were invited back on a future occasion.

UBC Sponsoring Poultry Parley

Poultry experts from Canada and the United States will take part in the second B.C. Poultry conference to be held at the University of B.C. July 24 to 26.

Program of the conference, sponsored jointly by the university department of extension and poultry science, B.C. Department of Agriculture and the Canada Department of Agriculture, will cover economics and management, poultry diseases, nutrition and housing.

Among conference speakers will be S. C. Barry, director of production services for the Canada Department of Agriculture at Ottawa who will speak on the poultry situation in Canada.

Dr. J. F. Crawley, head of the veterinary section, Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, University of Toronto, will discuss respiratory diseases in poultry.

Prof. Jacob Biely, chairman of the department of poultry science, UBC, is vice-chairman.

Also taking part in the conference will be several members of the university staff and well-known poultry scientists from B.C., the Canada department of agriculture and the United States.

The conference, which will be held in the Westbrook Building, UBC, is open to all poultrymen. Details may be obtained from conference secretary G. A. Drew, supervisor, agricultural services, extension department UBC.

Handling of food in the home should be carried on under strict sanitary conditions, just as in public eating places. Cleanliness, proper refrigeration of food, and prevention of contamination by insects is essential to health.

Some Split-Stone Mars Peach Crop Prospects

Prospects for a good peach crop in the South Okanagan are still indicated, according to the latest department of agriculture report from Kelowna, though some growers are finding a lot of split-stone peaches.

Thinning of apricots has been completed in most orchards in Penticton, Naramata, Kaledon, Okanagan Falls, Keremeos and Cawston. Apricot trees are improving in appearance and the fruit is sizing well, the report states.

Thinning of peaches and pears is getting underway. There has been a substantial drop of pears, thereby reducing earlier estimates slightly as well as the amount of pear thinning necessary.

Early cherries are starting to take on color but the outcome of the cherry crop remains problematical as signs of winter injury continue to become apparent. About 50 percent of an average cherry crop is now expected.

Fire-blight in pears has flared up and this may prove to be one of the worst fire-blight years since 1948. Green apple aphid is increasing rapidly while codling moth worm entries have been detected where spray recommendations have been ignored.

Mites are troublesome only in those orchards which did not receive pre-bloom miticidal sprays. Grasshoppers are more numerous than usual and there are indications that caterpillars will cause considerable concern.

OLIVER-OYOYOS

Fruit is sizing well at the moment. Elberta peaches are now in a June drop. Many growers have reported a drop on pears and apricots after the thinning had been completed. On most ranches Winesaps and Delicious will require very little thinning.

The third cover spray has been going on during the past few days. Red mites and rust mites have necessitated control measures on some ranches. Fire blight has been troublesome for about two weeks, most of the entries going in through the secondary bloom.

Cherries have been appearing on the fruit stands for the past few days. Picking of early varieties for the packinghouse will commence this week with Bings this coming weekend. Splitting on cherries has not been to serious to date.

The recent rains have benefited the vegetable crops all of which are making excellent growth. Early cabbage will be available next week and lettuce in ten day's time. Early potato harvest is expected to start the last week in June.

A general outbreak of apple scab has occurred throughout the district and special sprays are generally being applied. Insects are troublesome only where dormant and early sprays were omitted. Codling moth worm entries have occurred where spraying was haphazard. A few cases of rust mite have been reported.

Some insect pests continue to be more than usually active. Leaf rollers have destroyed the crop on many young pear trees. Lecanium scale is threatening the apricot crop in some orchards.

The Fall Webworm is showing up on pears and apples, particularly in young orchards where little regular spraying has been done. Up to now mites have not been active. This is largely due to the almost complete coverage of orchards with either dormant or pink sprays. European Red Mite is just beginning to show up. Dormant sprays of lime sulphur and dinitro have kept blister mite in good check this spring.

Vegetables in the Westbank area have made excellent progress this year. Tomatoes are well advanced for this time of year. Vegetable acreage in the area is about the same as last year.

The first cut of alfalfa was made just before the June 7 rain and much of it has not yet been baled.

Thinners of Bartlett pears and early apples is well underway. The set on Delicious apples is light and only a few blocks will require thinning.

The set on McIntosh was much heavier than on Delicious but a heavy June drop is in progress and on many blocks thinning will not be necessary. McIntosh are sizing exceptionally well.

Cherries are taking on color but much of the fruit is small. Strawberry harvest is underway with the peak of the season expected early next week.

Ground crops have been making good progress with little trouble other than cutworms. Some cucumbers have been harvested with some volume expected this week. Early potatoes should be ready for harvesting within a week.

Marilyn Bell To Be Married

TORONTO, (BUP) — Canada's swimming sweetheart — Marilyn Bell — is to be married. She made the announcement of her engagement here Tuesday.

The man who has won Marilyn's hand is 22-year-old Joseph Di Lasco of Atlantic City, New Jersey. Marilyn's father — Syd Bell — said that no definite date had been set for the wedding.

The couple met in 1954 when Marilyn won the women's world championship at Atlantic City. Di Lasco was working there as a lifeguard for the summer while on a holiday from La Salle University in Philadelphia.

Marilyn was the first person to swim across Lake Ontario and

THREE INJURED AS EXPLOSION BLOWS HOME TO BITS

Explosion of 15 cases of dynamite would have caused no greater damage than was done to a North York, Ont., home when it suddenly erupted and disintegrated into small splinters and bits of stone. Three persons were injured, all seriously, in the explosion which was heard three miles distant and blew debris over a city block. Mrs. Edith Creasor, who rents the home, had just turned up the thermostat for the furnace when the explosion occurred. She and the two others in the house—her daughter, Mrs. Margaret McKenna, and her grandson, Michael McKenna, 11—had to be dug out of the debris by firemen. Cause of the explosion is unknown.

Store Hours Set by Peachland Council

PEACHLAND — The regular meeting of the municipal council was held Thursday evening, with Reeve Hawksley in the chair.

The council had invited local shop owners and garage owners to be present to discuss the controversial shop-closing section of the new Municipal Act, which comes into force on July 1.

After consultation with the businessmen and duly considering the needs of the buying public and tourists, the council adopted a by-law that exempted all business eligible from shop closing regulations. Before becoming law, this bylaw must receive assent of the Lieutenant-Governor in council.

Garages and service stations will be able to stay open any time. Other stores except those to be exempted, must close not later than 6 p.m. five days a week and not later than 9 p.m. on Saturday. After September 1, stores will be required to close not later than 12 noon on Thursdays.

Any store desiring to do business after these hours must confine their sales to dairy products, bakery products, fresh fruits and vegetables, tobaccos, magazines and confectionery.

The reeve and council desired that all regulations be removed from shop closing but this was not possible, under the act. Fire Chief, R. A. Lloyd-Jones, was authorized to obtain an additional 300 feet of fire hose, this to come out of general revenue of the Municipality.

Says City Worker Damaged His Hedge

Penticton city council is investigating a complaint that a city worker damaged a resident's hedge.

E. M. Gibbs told council in a letter that his hedge had been damaged beyond what was necessary for clearance by a workman clearing the way for a new concrete sidewalk on Fairview road.

Supt. E. R. Gayfer, commenting on the letter, said a workman had found some of the hedge over the edge of the lot line and in cutting it back had gone over onto private property.

Council asked the superintendent to investigate the complaint fully and then to report back on his findings.

Light, Water Line Extension Refused

Dr. R. E. Earnshaw asked council Monday night if it would be possible to bring domestic water and electric light lines further along Roy avenue. Doing so, he said, would make the hook-up with his new premises there much less costly.

He said he has several hundred feet of each line to pay for, owing to the location of his new kennels building. Council members said they could not make any exception in his case, because it would establish a dangerous precedent.

No present, or immediate future possibility for the required extension exists, it was stated.

Hidden Bomb Explodes Under Alderman's Wife At Her Home

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UP) — A hidden bomb exploded directly under a Rockford alderman's wife in the breezeway of her home Tuesday, blasting away her right arm and leg.

The woman, Mrs. Alma Anderson, 61, was rushed to Swedish American hospital and was still in surgery five hours later. Five doctors worked desperately to save her life, but hopes were not high.

Rockford police called in FBI agents to aid them discover what kind of bomb had been placed at the home of Alderman Eric A. Anderson.

"It is one of the most revolting crimes in Rockford in many years," Police Sgt. Howard Brewer said.

Police could find no immediate motive for the blast. Anderson had been away from home for hours attending a meeting two miles away when the bomb went off directly under her wife.

It was also a mystery whether the bomb had been deliberately touched off when Mrs. Anderson passed over it or whether it exploded at that instant through grim coincidence.

Mr. Anderson had been weeding in the garden with his daughter-in-law Mrs. Lucille Anderson, moments before the explosion.

VETERAN PICKET GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP) — Clyde Velter, members of a teamsters local, has picketed a gravel firm on a full-time basis since March, 1951. Most of his time is spent inside his car which bears a sign, "on strike".

Ex-Peachland Resident Dies

PEACHLAND Word was received Friday of the sudden death of a former resident of Peachland.

Mrs. K. M. Fernyhough passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Pedlar, in Centralia, Ont., on May 16th. The funeral was held May 20th, with interment at Samia, Ont.

Mrs. Fernyhough was pre-deceased by her husband in 1938. She is survived by her only daughter, Dorothy, one grandson, and two brothers.

The late Mr. and Mrs. Fernyhough, with their daughter, came from Vancouver to live in Peachland in February of 1933. During their ten years' residence they made a host of friends and were sadly missed when Dorothy joined the Women's division of the RCAF and they went to live in the East.

Passengers Collapse As Trains Break Down In Sweltering Heat

NEW YORK, (UP) — Four crowded morning rush hour trains from New Jersey broke down in the heat wave Tuesday, trapping 500 persons in darkened, steaming-hot cars under the Hudson river for more than three hours.

Eleven passengers collapsed in the heat. Six of them were rushed to hospital.

A total of about 1,500 persons, some of them stranded, were aboard Hudson and Manhattan railway trains that normally cross under the Hudson from Hoboken, N.J., to Manhattan's Herald Square in 18 minutes. Today it took closer to three hours and a half.

The 1,000 occupants of the three trains stalled nearest Manhattan made their way 1,000 feet through the tunnel and up a 55-foot spiral staircase to an escape hatch on the New York shore of the Hudson. To stick it out, with the straphangers sitting on the floor or squeezing into already filled bench-type seats on the cars.

Those who stayed put sweltered for 3 hours and 10 minutes, with only dim battery powered emergency lights cutting the tunnel's inky darkness.

The chain-reaction mishap occurred at 8:05 a.m., when a chunk of concrete became dislodged from a tunnel wall and fell on the electric third rail. The rail was pushed out of line. When a train from New Jersey came along, it caused a short circuit that knocked the electricity out.

THE LAKES AND STREAMS

Rain Slows Fishing Few Limit Catches

By GRACE M. SIMPSON

Rainy weather in many sections has tended to slow down the fishing but some reports of limit catches are coming in.

Good fishing was reported at the head of Adams and the Mammoth River. The Roy Self No. 5, Cooper Spoon No. 5, and F.S.T. No. 3, and a Crocodile spoon all were good. Limit catches from 2½ to 7 pounds. Road fair.

There were limit and near limit catches at Boleau, near Falkland, in spite of thunderstorms and showery weather. Fly fishing proved best and the trolled fly proved very effective. The Mosquito fly, Grizzly King, Green Sedge were the favorites. Flatfish and small plugs also were good.

Arthur and Spa Lakes have not been fished much as yet, and here also flies were best, either casting or trolling. Most fish taken were about two pounds, with a few three-pounders landed.

Pinus lake remains good, with limit catches, 17-inch being the largest. Road is good.

Pillar lake has picked up again with the return of some of the spawners. Rain has been heavy but after it stopped, limit catches were made in two to three hours, largest being 2½ pounds, taken on the fly. Trolling good. Road excellent.

Paradise lake has been spotty due to unsettled weather, but some have taken out a lot of fish. Road is in fair shape, but rough in spots.

Johnson lake fair to good. Up to eight pounds reported, mainly surface fishing.

Tankwa lake near Kamloops. This is a very temperamental lake, but plenty of fish in the lake. Several have reported that the fish seem to have some sort of lice, however.

Dee lakes have slowed down, only fair catches. The odd large one at Dpreen.

Meadow lake — fly fishing is best. The Carcy Special and Black O'Lindsay proved best. Fish weighing up to four and a quarter pounds.

Shuswap seems to be picking up, and the water is starting to go down.

Richer lake is still holding out and some nice catches reported. This lake is just a few miles in side of the Canadian border.

Paul lake, 12 miles north-east of Kamloops, one of the most beautiful lakes in B.C., is also one of the most prolific. Even in hot weather it gives a reasonably good accounting, while in the spring and fall it is usually tops. It is an excellent fly lake, yielding fish two to nearly six pounds. Trolling also is good. Mainly Kamloops trout, and these fighting fish give a thrill to many anglers.

Roy Barnhart, Wenatchee, Washington, has just reported excellent fishing at Paul, with flies best. Trolling a gray-blue in the evening was good, with weights up to 2½ pounds, and several others landed four-pounders. Evenings were definitely best.

There are four Forestry campsites on Paul lake, as well as a lodge. Mr. Barnhart said all the fish he saw were excellent trout, and no one had even seen any coarse fish.

Meadow lake — fly fishing is best. The Carcy Special and Black O'Lindsay proved best. Fish weighing up to four and a quarter pounds.

Mahood lake — fair to good, showing steady improvement.

Knuff — starting to pick up, and should be really good soon.

Little river—slow, but starting to get a little action.

Luc Le Jeune — This lake is really good at present with the Black O'Lindsay still the best fly, up to 2½ pounds. Gang trolls with worms, and flatfish also proved good. Larger fish are now taking the hook. Road is good. Plenty of boats.

Gilmpse lake — Good. Limit catches.

Shuswap lake. A fairly good

THE PENTICTON HERALD
Wed., June 19, 1957

report has just come in, indicating my prediction of good fishing again if the water goes down might come true. Fishing at Armstrong's Point, near the Narrows Lodge. Dan Heimburger and party, from Spokane, did fairly well, using a Roy, Self, Lucky Louie and plugs. They caught up to nine pounds in weight and said the lake was fair, but improving.

Canim — Showing steady improvement.

Thompson river — The Green Sedge has been the best fly, while fish weighing up to six pounds have been taken on the troll.

The North Thompson has many adjacent lakes, some of them seldom fished, but all excellent. We hope to have a report next week.

Harmon lake, in the Princeton area, good on the Green Sedge, up to 2½ pounds.

Hornet lake — Road poor, but fishing good, especially with No. 5 flatfish.

Kootenay — Only fair, but improving.

Crater lake—Good. Troll and bait, also S.P.L. flatfish No. 5 with two B.B. shots.

Osoyoos lake, due to cooler weather has shown considerable improvement with fish up to six pounds and better being caught.

Vancouver Studying Home For Homeless

VANCOUVER, (BUP) — Homeless youths in Vancouver may soon have their own hostel. City council is to set up a committee to deal with this question in response to a request from the B.C. Youth council. But city council, maintaining that this is basically a provincial problem, refuses to finance the hostel.
